Dear Stanley:

Thank you very much for your note of
May 20, 1954.

It was most thoughtful of you to write me, and I am very grateful for your kindness. It is needless for me to tell you that we have enjoyed our association with you over the years, and your many friends in the FBI join me in hoping that the coming years will bring every possible happiness to Mrs. Tracy and you.

Sincerely,
J. Edgar Hoover

NOTE: Salutation per prior correspondence. Bufiles reflect that Mr. Tracy is to leave Washington for Utah some time during the early part of June. This letter is being sent to his Washington address inasmuch as we have no Utah address for him.

May 20, 1954

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I want to express my deep appreciation to you for the many courtesies extended by you not only on the occasion of my retirement, but over the years.

The meeting in your office when you presented me with my badge and the cuff links from the Executives Conference will long be remembered by me.

Margaret and I were also pleased that you could be with us at the reception, and we also want you to know how much we liked the silver liqueur cups.

Although I have retired, I have not left the Bureau except physically. Your aims and ideals not only for the Bureau but for the country will be carried on as best I can whenever the occasion arises.

With every good wish for your continued success,

Sincerely,

Stanley Tracy

Dear Stanley:

The story of your career carried on the inside cover of the enclosed June issue of "The Investigator" could only touch on some of your accomplishments, but I think it does show the extremely high regard in which every Bureau employee holds you.

I think the Exhibits Section did an especially fine job in illustrating your story. Please let me know if you would like to have extra copies of this issue, and we will be happy to send them to you.

Sincerely,

J. Edgar Hoover

STANLEY J. TRACY

Stanley J. Tracy, who for many years served as F.B.I. deputy director, is retiring from his position in one of the most vital agencies of the U.S. administration.

Latin American countries will deeply regret Mr. Tracy's separation from the F.B.I. inasmuch as Mr. Tracy was a valuable friend who helped them organizing similar services to that he so efficiently served in the U. S.

THE AMERICAS DAILY, as a spokesman for Spanish speaking people is pleased to express Mr. Tracy's appreciation and esteem.

SEPARACIÓN DEL F. B. I. EL SUB-DIRECTOR

En comunicado oficial expedido por el señor J. Edgar Hoover, Director del F.B.I., anuncia al país que el sub-director de la ciudad, señor Stanley J. Tracy, se retira de la altísima posición de confianza que ocupaba en uno de los más delicados organismos de la vida institucional norteamericana, por cuestión reglamentaria que regula la materia.

Para los países latinoamericanos, especialmente, la separación del señor Tracy constituye motivo de lamentable ocurrencia ya que en él siempre tuvieron un desvelado amigo que en repetidas oportunidades, y valiéndose de sus amplios conocimientos, les ayuda a organizar similares a aquel que el propio señor Tracy ha pertenecido.

Como voceros del conglomerado iberoamericano, debemos reiterar en esta oportunidad al señor Stanley J. Tracy, la labor por él desarrollada y reafirmarle nuestra siempre viva admiración y simpatía.

RE: PERFORMANCE RATING BOARD OF REVIEW

My dear Mr. Young:

With further reference to my letter dated June 17, 1953, concerning the membership of the FDI Performance Rating Board of Review, you are advised that Mr. W. R. Glavin, the Agency member of the Board and Mr. S. J. Tracy, the alternate Agency member, have recently retired from the service of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Accordingly, Mr. John P. Mohr has been designated to replace Mr. Glavin as Agency member and Mr. Quinn Tamm has been designated to replace Mr. Tracy as alternate. Since Mr. Tamm had been serving as Agency representative prior to his designation as alternate Agency member it is necessary to designate a new Agency representative and Mr. H. L. Edwards has been so designated.

The above is submitted for your information.

AFGE's Stan Tracy Retires As Assistant FBI Director

Another distinguished AFGE member is retiring from the Government service this month.

Assistant FBI Director Stanley J. Tracy who worked his way up through the career ranks to head the FBI's Identification Division, began his Government service in 1918. He has been with the FBI since 1933 and, after serving in the office of FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, was appointed in 1941 as Assistant Director in charge of the vitally important Identification Division and Technical Laboratory.

At that time, there were 22 million fingerprint cards on file. Today, the number exceeds 130 million.

An active AFGE member for many years, Mr. Tracy served as chairman of the AFGE's Civil Service Anniversary Banquet this year. He told THE GOVERNMENT STANDARD that he intends to continue his active association with the AFGE after his retirement.

In accepting Mr. Tracy's letter of resignation, FBI Director Hoover wrote: "I would be less than frank if I withheld my feelings of reluctance to approve your request . . . I am particularly qualified by personal observation and first-hand knowledge to appraise your invaluable service because of your assignment to my immediate office and your current position as assistant director in charge of the Identification Division."

Employing Establishment

Dear Sir:

This office has received your written notice (Form CA-1) of a personal injury reported to have been sustained by you on the above date while in the performance of your duties as an employee at the establishment shown.

Under the provisions of the Federal Employees' Compensation Act a civil employee of the United States who is injured while in the performance of his official duty is entitled to (1) medical treatment for such injury and (2) payment of compensation for disability resulting from such injury.

The information on file in your case is not sufficient to show that you are entitled to benefits under such Act because written notice of injury and claim for compensation not filed within one year.

Sections 15 to 20 of the Federal Employees' Compensation Act provide that unless written notice of injury and claim for compensation is made by or on behalf of an employee within one year, no compensation shall be allowed. However, the Bureau may waive compliance with these requirements should it find (1) that such failure was due to circumstances beyond the control of the person claiming benefits, or (2) that such person has shown sufficient cause or reason in explanation thereof and material prejudice to the interest of the United States has not resulted from such failure.

This is not a decision on your case but is intended to give you the opportunity to present any further evidence you may care to offer before a decision is made. Such evidence must be in writing but need not be notarized or in any particular form. If you desire a decision on your case, you must also complete and send to the Bureau the attached Form CA-4.

No further action will be taken by the Bureau concerning your right to benefits unless in response to this letter you advise whether you intend to perfect your claim.

Very truly yours,
(Mrs.) B. Milwitt Greene

You will recall that former Assistant Director Stanley J. Tracy filed a claim with the Bureau of Employees' Compensation (BEC) claiming a loss of hearing in his left ear which he first noticed in 1949 and that Mr. Tracy attributed this hearing loss to exposure to noise from firearms while engaged in firearms training on the indoor ranges and at the FBI Academy, Quantico, Virginia. It was recommended April 23, 1954, and approved by the Director that compensation forms CA-1 and CA-2 and Photostats of pertinent medical reports furnished to Mr. Tracy from 1938 to date be transmitted to the compensation agency. The Director commented in connection with such recommendation "Okay but make no recommendations." Such material was then transmitted to the agency for the consideration of Mr. Tracy's claim that his hearing loss was attributed to working conditions.

By letter dated June 15, 1954, the original addressed to Mr. Tracy with a copy designated for the Bureau the Claims Section, BEC, have advised Mr. Tracy that the information on file in his case is not sufficient to show that he is entitled to benefits under the Federal Employees Compensation Act in that written notice of injury and claim for compensation were not filed within 1 year from date of injury. BEC pointed out that sections 15 to 20 of the compensation act provide that unless written notice of injury and claim for compensation is made by or on behalf of employee within 1 year, no compensation is allowed. However, BEC may waive compliance with these requirements should it find (1) that such failure was due to circumstances beyond the control of the person claiming benefits or (2) that such person has shown a sufficient cause or reason or explanation thereof and material prejudice to the interest of the United States has not resulted from such failure.

BEC has pointed out to Mr. Tracy that the above is not a decision on his case but is intended to give him the opportunity to present any further evidence he may care to offer before a decision is made. BEC advised Mr. Tracy they will take no further action concerning his claim unless he submits a reply to them if he intends to perfect such claim.

Ogden's 'Dick Tracy' Sets Date for Leaving FBI Job

By Frank Hewlett
Tribune Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON, May 1—Stanley Tracy, Ogden's famed G-man, is retiring this month from his important job as assistant director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

A spokesman for the FBI said Mr. Tracy, the man in charge of the world's largest file of fingerprints, is leaving government service May 15.

He has been one of the key assistants to FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover.

"I would be less than frank if I withheld my feelings of reluctance to approve your resignation," said Mr. Hoover in a letter to Mr. Tracy. "I am particularly qualified by personal observation and first-hand knowledge to appraise your vital service because of your long assignment in my immediate office and your current position as assistant director in charge of the identification division."

"DICK" TRACY, as he is known in G-men circles, was born in Ogden in 1900. After graduating from Ogden High School he entered the Army for brief service at the close of World War I.

Following the war he came to Washington where he worked for the government and also attended George Washington University where he obtained his law degree.

He now is president of the general alumni association of George Washington University.

Mr. Tracy has been a member of the Utah Bar Association since 1926 and has been with the FBI since Sept. 11, 1933. One of his first assignments with the bureau was as a field agent in Salt Lake City.

In 1934 the sandy-haired Mr. Tracy was ordered to Washington as an assistant chief clerk and was assigned in charge of J. Edgar Hoover's office. He served with the chief until late 1941 when he was named assistant director in charge of identification.

WHEN MR. TRACY took over the identification department, the FBI had 22 million fingerprints on file. It now has the tremendous number of 130 million. These prints now come in at the rate of more than 20,000 a day.

Mr. Tracy has 2,000 people working under him in the identification department. His experts constantly are on call to testify on fingerprint evidence and countless are the crimes that have been solved throughout the country as a result of the work of his department.

Stanley Tracy . . . One of key assistants to FBI chief.

Despite his big department, Mr. Tracy has long made a practice of interviewing each employe when they begin work.

Many of these workers have included Mountain States young men who have been given jobs so they could attend law school here.

Mr. Tracy plans to visit Utah early in June for an extended stay and while there hopes to get in some long overdue fishing. His plans for the future still are unsettled, according to Mr. Tracy's old friend and long-time associate, Louis B. Nichols, who is assistant to the FBI director in charge of press relations.

DIRECTOR, FBI

August 20, 1954

STANLEY J. TRACY

AMERICAN BAR ASSOCIATION
Criminal Law Section, Chicago
August 15-20, 1954.

The above-mentioned convention was attended by Assistant Director ROLF HARBO and the writer, with particular reference to the Criminal Law Section. Mr. HARBO is furnishing details as to the program, etc.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected the opening day of the section meeting Monday, August 16. WALTER ARMSTRONG, Jr. specifically requested that I continue to serve for one more year as Assistant Secretary. I discussed the matter with him and with others in this section and they felt that Mr. HARBO was not sufficiently acquainted with individual members to be considered at this time. Mr. HARBO will be favorably considered next year.

In addition, Mr. ARMSTRONG is placing Mr. HARBO on the Police Training Committee and on the Juvenile Delinquency Committee.

The sessions of the Criminal Law Section were extremely well attended and the work of the section seems to be attaining a greater importance. Part of this is due to the fact that the former Chairman, ARTHUR FREUND, has been removed from the Chairmanship. Mr. ARMSTRONG is able to secure a far greater degree of cooperation from Bar Association officials.

Mr. HARBO met most members of the Criminal Law Section, including all the officers, council, and distinguished guests. He made a very fine impression and several individuals remarked to me they were more than delighted he was becoming active in the Section and they looked forward with a great deal of pleasure to future association with him. I think Mr. HARBO will render outstanding service in this Section of the American Bar.

On returning to Washington approximately September 1, I will contact Mr. RUFUS KING and secure from him copies of various reports for the further information of the Bureau.

DIRECTOR

STANLEY J. TRACY is campaigning for national president of the AFL's AFGE on a platform that calls for: A 35-hour week in Government; pay raises for Federal and District Government employees; restoration of 30 days annual and 15 days sick leave for all employees, and major medical and health insurance for employees.

JAMES A. CAMPBELL, a candidate for reelection as AFGE's national president, has urged the Democratic Party to include in its platform these promises: To protect and extend the merit system; a fair and non-political employee loyalty program; adequate pay raises for Federal employees, and promotions based on merit in Government.

CSC: Nicholas J. Oganovic will be appointed director of Civil Service's Denver regional office as of Sept. 1. He's assistant chief of the agency's Bureau of Departmental Operations here. Edmund S. Burrows, Denver director for the past year, will return here to be chief of the Personnel Management Review Section.

MEMO FOR THE DIRECTOR

At Chicago during the American Bar Convention, Walter Armstrong, Chairman of the Criminal Law Section, was most insistent that I remain as Assistant Secretary for at least one more year. He confidentially advised me that he is trying to eliminate Arthur Freund, the former Chairman from St. Louis, from the picture. During interim meetings and at the Convention, I have taken rather strong opposition with Freund's views, being about the only one in the Section who opposes him. At the Convention next year, I will complete arrangements for the nomination of Harbo.

Respectfully,

S. J. Tracy

SJT:eff

I told Tracy I saw no reason for Tracy giving up the office.

TO : MR. TOLSON

DATE: 12/2/54

FROM : J. P. OHR

SUBJECT: SOCIETY OF FORMER SPECIAL AGENTS, I.C.
Information Concerning

Daniel L. O'Connor called me this morning, he being a member of the Executive Committee of the Society, and asked me if I was familiar with the project being proposed by Messrs. S. J. Tracy and D. M. Ladd to establish a clearinghouse for public source information on subversives and subversive groups. I advised O'Connor I knew nothing of the project and he said that it has been proposed that the Society make a public announcement indicating the necessity for such an organization and that Messrs. Tracy and Ladd would then be able to present justification to a foundation for sufficient funds to set up such a clearinghouse. O'Connor said what he wanted to know was would the Bureau have any reason why the Society should not help in connection with this.

I asked O'Connor how the Society felt about it at this point and he told me that the Society would probably be opposed because they did not want to get involved in anything that was the least bit controversial and he thought the proposed project was of a controversial nature. I asked O'Connor specifically if it was his impression or his knowledge that it would be possible for a member of the public to write to this proposed clearinghouse and ask if a specific individual was a member of a Communist front group or the Communist Party and get back a reply. O'Connor told me it was his impression that a member of the public could do that and as a matter of fact the clearinghouse would send back public source material indicating whether or not the individual was affiliated with subversive organizations. O'Connor said he had a letter from Mr. Tracy outlining the organization and he said it was proposed that it be called the American Research Foundation, that it be located in Washington, D. C., it be separately incorporated, have a library which would be implemented by other libraries now in existence on such material, that it would be staffed by fully competent professional people but that it would not operate as an investigative organization nor would its aims and purposes run counter to any state or federal internal security investigative function.

In discussing this with you, I got a different impression as to the type of organization Mr. Tracy was trying to set up and it

55 DEC 15 1954

JFO:LM

(3)

CC - Mr. Nichols

appeared they were mainly interested in disseminating printed material on organizations and groups and not in the business of clearing or not clearing individuals.

In talking to O'Connor later I asked him specifically if the so-called clearinghouse was going to engage in clearing individuals as he had indicated to me and he said that was merely his impression and that Mr. Tracy had not told him they were going to do that. He said he felt that the aims and purposes of the clearinghouse, however, were sufficiently broad to permit them to do it. He read me parts of the letter which he had gotten from Mr. Tracy on this subject and one of the purposes was the dissemination nationwide of anti-Communist propaganda, to plan an educational program of anti-subversiveness and the object of the clearinghouse would be to get the truth to the public since the public now has no place to go for the truth.

I told O'Connor that I could not give him any information as to the position he should take on the subject matter but it seemed to me that his first observation was correct, that it appeared to be a rather controversial matter and he would have to use his best judgment in making a decision. He told me that unless the Bureau had some specific reason why the Society should back the project, he was opposed to it and would appose the Society being used for the purpose indicated.

The foregoing is submitted for your information.

TO : Mr. Tolson

FROM : L. B. Nichols

SUBJECT: St. Louis, Mo. 3/1/55

Feb, 28, 1955

Dr. Philip Bradley, Economic Advisor for the Ford Motor Company, son-in-law of Senator Wiley, told me he had been hearing some very good things about the American Research Foundation which will be headed by Messrs. Ladd, Tracy, O'Connor and others. He thinks there is a real need for this type of a foundation and he could be instrumental in interesting certain folks to put money in this. He would not do this however unless I told him it was all right. I told him obviously regardless of what our personal feelings might be, we could not recommend any private organization and while Messrs. Ladd, Tracy and O'Connor were fine gentlemen, this would be a decision he would have to make himself.

Library on 'Risks' Has $ Aid

A group of former FBI men here who are organizing a free "public library" of information on alleged subversives have been assured of private financial help and the donation of "quite a number of fairly good-sized private libraries," one of them said today.

The organization is called the Foundation for American Research. It will hire a professional staff, headed by "the most prominent individual we can find in the field—probably an educator," according to Stanley J. Tracy, a former assistant director of the FBI.

It is being set up because a group of former agents "felt there was no central place to go to get information of this kind," he said.

He said his group first talked to "a number of people in the country on the feasibility of the idea and to the owners of some of these libraries about making the information available to the nation."

Altho, the Foundation hopes to get donations from other foundations and individuals, the bulk of its funds apparently will come from "a cross-section of people around the nation" who are especially interested in setting up such a library.

The library will contain only "authentic, documented" information on the general subject of subversion, Mr. Tracy said.

Free 'Library' for the Public Here

Ex-FBI Men Form File on 'Subversives'

A group of former FBI men—including some now holding high Government—
—are meeting here today to put the final touches on plans for a free, non-profit
"public library" of information on alleged subversives.

It will be located in Washington and will be called the Foundation for American Research. Public donations will support it.

Stanley J. Tracy, who served last year as an assistant director of the FBI, and D. Milton Ladd, who retired last year as one of two assistants to FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover, are members of the organizing committee.

Mr. Ladd

Each had more than 30 years in Government service and spent more than 20 years with the FBI.

Mr. Tracy told The News the Foundation has no connection whatsoever with the FBI and will not make use of any secret Government files or draw on what its ex-agent members might remember from those files.

NOTHING SECRET

"No secret or confidential things at all," Mr. Tracy said. "Only published documents."

"It will be a public library, that's all. A non-profit public library. About the same as the Congressional Library, open to the general public."

"One of the primary services would be for writers, researchers, the press, and so on."

NO INVESTIGATIONS

No investigative work will be done by the foundation or its members, Mr. Tracy said.

"We are all lawyers," he said. "We won't be doing any investigating. No other services except as a research center."

An unnamed member of the group, quoted by the United Press, said the organization would not fall into the "private vigilante" category which President Eisenhower deplored in an American Legion speech some 18 months ago.

NO NAMES YET

Members of the founding group include Government officials, at least one security agent and two private attorneys. Mr. Tracy declined to name them until officers have been chosen.

"The meeting today is to put the final touches on organization," he said. "We are just reaching the end of writing the articles of incorporation."

"We are preparing a brochure which will include all the details concerning the foundation and that will be available to everyone."

Bylaws prohibit members from "voluntarily" testifying before any committee or investigative board. Asked why, Mr. Tracy said:

"Because being a public library, we should not engage in anything to affect legislation. It will be strictly objective."

Ex-FBI Agents To List Subversives

WASHINGTON, May 13. — A group of ex-Federal Bureau of Investigation agents headed by former assistants to J. Edgar Hoover, will establish a non-government "research center" to provide information on "known" subversives, it was reported.

As assembled by the former agents will be open to anyone—private individuals, members of Congress, business organizations,

The name of the organization will be the Foundation for American Research. At its helm will be Milton Ladd and Stanley Tracy, both recently retired from the FBI and both former assistant directors of the Bureau. It will be a non-profit organization supported by private contributions.

Some of the other members of the nucleus group here have high government jobs. At least one is a security agent. Two others are practicing private attorneys. They are members of the Society of Former FBI Agents.

A member of the projected foundation, who asked not to be named, said the organization would do no investigative work and would not fall into the "private vigilante" category, which President Eisenhower has said he opposes.

Library to Offer Alien Matter

Incorporation articles were to be signed today for the Foundation for American Research. Its organizers, former FBI men, said it would be a library of publications "on all to date an movements."

Stanley J. Tracy, who retired as assistant FBI director last year, said it would be "a free public library non-profit with no confidential matter and no investigative work."

Mr. Tracy said D. Milton Ladd, another top FBI man who retired last year, was one of the organizers.

Former agents still in Government jobs are among the founders, Mr. Tracy said. He wouldn't name them, however.

"There are a number of private libraries with this sort of material around the country," Mr. Tracy said, "but they aren't readily available to the public." He said the new foundation would be open to all, and could serve as a collection point for others. He compared it to the Library of Congress.

The foundation will be supported by private funds and contributions will be asked from the public, he said.

Mr. Tracey said the library will include only published material.

He said the former agents do not intend to volunteer testimony on alleged subversion "because we don't want to engage in anything to affect legislation."

Asked who will decide what material will go into the library, he said "That will be an administrative function. It will be decided by the officers."

Group Plans Totalitarian Data Library

Two retired high-ranking FBI officials and two lawyers who used to be FBI agents unveiled yesterday a plan to make all available data on totalitarianism readily accessible to the public.

The project calls for a free library to be financed by public contributions.

"We felt there was need for a public library where people could get full and complete information on totalitarian groups—groups whose activities are inimical to the interests of the United States," said Stanley J. Tracy. Tracy retired last year as an assistant FBI director.

Papers incorporating the "Foundation of American Research," as it will be known officially, were filed today in the United States District Court.

The incorporators are D. Milton Ladd, who retired last year as assistant to FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, and Washington attorneys Daniel L. O'Connor and Aaron W. Jackson.

Tracy said there would be "an objective approach to the whole question of totalitarianism" and that the library would contain material "both pro and con." Even the Daily Worker and other Communist publications will be included.

For record purposes, at 3:15 p.m., 5/11/55, Miss Gwen Gibson, of United Press, advised Wick in my office she would, on the morning of 5/12/55, write a story relating to the Foundation for American Research as being established by former Bureau employees and specifically, Messrs. Ladd and Tracy. She asked if Mr. Hoover or the FBI would have any comment. Wick told her, since this was a private undertaking, neither the Director nor any Bureau official would have anything to say.

At 11:30 a.m., today, J. Herbert Altschull, of the Associated Press, talked with Wick in my office. He asked where Mr. Tracy could be reached and it was suggested that Altschull might try to reach him at his home. Altschull also asked for the ages of both Mr. Ladd and Mr. Tracy, their positions while in the Bureau, the dates they each retired, and their dates of entry into the service. This information was given to Altschull: Ladd, entered on duty, 11/5/28, and retired 2/28/54; Tracy, 54, entered on duty, 9/11/33, and retired 5/31/54. Altschull also asked if the Bureau had any feeling one way or the other about these former employees forming an organization of this type, and Wick told Altschull the Bureau had no statement inasmuch as it was a private undertaking.

Al Shuster of the Washington bureau of the New York Times called my office May 12, 1955, and spoke to DeLoach. He referred to the captioned organization which will be headed by Messrs. Ladd and Tracy. He wanted to know if any FBI employees who are currently on active duty with the FBI would be employed by Ladd and Tracy during their off hours from the Bureau. DeLoach told him definitely not. Shuster then wanted to know the EOD and retirement dates of Ladd; also, the entry and resignation dates of Dan O'Connor and Aaron Jacobsen.

After checking, Shuster was advised that Ladd entered on duty November 5, 1928, and retired as of February 28, 1954. O'Connor entered on duty June 26, 1939, and resigned October 15, 1945. Jacobsen entered on duty as of August 13, 1928, and left March 17, 1932. It was made clear to Shuster that the FBI has no connection with the captioned outfit directly or indirectly; that we knew nothing about it and that it was strictly a private operation. He stated he understood this.

8 Ex-FBI Men Set Up Subversive Data Library

Eight former FBI men incorporated a foundation yesterday to launch a library here of material on alleged subversive or totalitarian groups and persons. The incorporation for "Foundation for American Research" was signed by D. Milton Ladd, Aaron W. Jacobson and Daniel O'Connor.

Mr. Ladd retired last year as assistant FBI director. The two others are attorneys.

Stanley J. Tracy also retired from the bureau, said he and the trio are the active organizers of the library project. Their four co-organizers are scattered across the Nation, he added.

Mr. Tracy said the library will be free and open to the public. "It will be open to Earl Browder if he wants to use it, or to the Daily Worker," Mr. O'Connor said.

The library will include only published material and will have no confidential matter, the organizers said.

"There is a lot of published material on totalitarianism, and there are a number of private libraries on the subject around the country," Mr. Tracy said. "But never before has there been a central repository."

Officers will be elected in the next several weeks, Mr. Tracy said. Officers won't necessarily be former FBI agents, he said.

Mr. O'Connor said the need for a central library has been felt for years. The organizers have been working on this project about eight months, he said.

The incorporation certificate says the library will include material on "individuals, corporations, groups, associations or organizations whose activities are considered inimical to the best interest of the United States."

Mr. O'Connor said the foundation will be financed by contributions.

"We have a pretty good idea where the money will come from," he added.

"It's not contemplated that we'll have public solicitation like the Red Cross or the Community Chest."

The four declined to name the other four organizers until after officers are elected.

One of the unnamed four is reportedly a Federal official.

"But it's not J. Edgar Hoover if that's what you're thinking," Mr. O'Connor said.

For record purposes, Mr. Tracy called me on the morning of May 12th to inquire whether I had seen the publicity on the American Research Foundation in the News. I told him that I had not, but that I had seen the ticker. I told him I frankly thought it was premature. Tracy then told me that Dan O'Connor had interested a friend of his from the United Press the night before in doing a story. This, of course, is [redacted] who covers the Department and who called us on this. Tracy stated that the story had taken hold and they were having numerous inquiries, I told Tracy that these things, of course, are befraught with danger.

Mr. Ladd came in to see me Thursday afternoon. He volunteered the information that he was leaving town. I told him it was a good thing. He volunteered that he did not like the headline. I told him that I thought that the publicity was premature and might have an adverse reaction and that we would, of course, have to disassociate ourselves from this should the question come up. Ladd stated that he, of course, understood and that we should; that Tracy in talking to the press had made it very clear that the Bureau had nothing to do with it.

In view of the persistency of the inquiries, I had Wick call the AP and the UP on the night of May 12th, which is already covered by separate memorandum pointing out that we had no direct or indirect connection; that it was a private organization; that the Bureau has no knowledge of the plans. This appeared on the UP ticker on the morning of May 13th. Mr. Tracy called me on the morning of May 13th to inquire what the reaction was regarding publicity. I told him that quite frankly it had been bad; that I expected it was only a matter of time before a barrage would be directed at both him and the Bureau and that I thought they certainly should have waited until they had a good substantial amount of funds before jeopardizing themselves in the manner in which they were, by the publicity. Tracy felt the publicity was good and they were getting uniformly a good reaction; that there had not been any sour notes as yet. I told him that the sour notes would have been in the form of a brickbat and this was what disturbed me.

The attached article was reviewed by E. S. Deiss, S. F. Latona and the writer and it was found to be accurate from a technical aspect. Mr. Tracy is correct in his statements regarding the taking of fingerprints, palm prints, and footprints and methods of producing them in evidence. With regard to their admissibility, however, and his discussion of expert testimony as well as compelling a witness to testify against himself, the same research performed by him would have to be done to evaluate his conclusions. He has cited a number of cases to support his argument which may or may not be good law.

Library on Communism Related by FBI Speaker

A proposed library of uncensored open books on Communism was described here yesterday by former assistant director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation Stanley J. Tracy.

Mr. Tracy addressed members of the Manufacturers Association in the Roof Garden of the Onondaga Hotel.

"The truth is our strongest weapon . . . the truth about the manifold lies, distortions and tactics utilized by the Communists and others seeking to influence public opinion," Mr. Tracy said.

The speaker said truth is contained in Communist books and publications and that truth is also contained in publications and writings of American and foreign scholars, but that it is "scattered around the nation, and in its entirety available to none."

Mr. Tracy said that a group of lawyers, all former agents or officials of the FBI, incorporated the Foundation for American Research May 12, 1954 in Washington, D. C.

The foundation, the speaker said, would collect, index, correlate, and file as a public education service all past published data concerning the policies, operation, and nature of Nazi, Fascist, Communist and similar groups.

Mr. Tracy said that the foundation was a private corporation for literary and educational purposes, and that it is non-profit, non-sectarian, non-political, and non-governmental. He added that the foundation's library would be valuable to educators, clergymen, labor leaders, business executives, civic groups, scholars, historians, authors and members of the press.

"It is imperative that such a service be provided if our social, religious and economic structure is to be able to meet successfully the totalitarian, slave labor, and godless structure of Communism," the speaker said.

Plans for Library to 'Defend the Innocent' Under Way in Washington, Manufacturers Told

Plans for a library to "defend the innocent" are under way in Washington, D. C., according to Stanley J. Tracy, former assistant director of the FBI, who spoke at noon today to the Manufacturers Association.

Information on subversive and totalitarian activities will be on file in the proposed library, being organized by the Foundation for American Research.

"No single pro and con can be found in connection with Fascists, Communists or Nazis. We have to have the whole picture so that we know the facts," stressed Tracy, chairman of the organizing committee for the foundation.

Publications of Communist front groups will be available to the public in this non-profit and non-political library. In two weeks public brochures on the facilities of the library will be mailed to the public.

finance construction of the library, which will only disseminate facts. "We do not want to propagandize the American people; all material will be factual," continued Tracy. No officers of the library will be permitted to interpret any material.

Tracy estimates the library will be staffed by 75 people when completed. Experts in various fields will be on hand to select material to be sent to universities, labor leaders, newspapers and religious leaders.

Record Changes
Every change in Communist Party policies in each area of the world will be on record in the library, so that this nation can keep informed on the group's tactics," the speaker said.

"Films, radio scripts and television matter will not be used unless they are reproduced in a published form," said Tracy.

Former FBI men developed the idea of a library "to defend the innocent." Tracy worked with the government for 34 years before retiring last year. Besides helping to organize the library, Tracy is currently working on a research program at George Washington University on world migration problems as they affect the United States.

Seen with Dr. Fields and history and chart reviewed. The man has a left septal deviation but on examination there was a better exchange thru the left side than the right. There is a generalized irritative reaction thru out the upper respiratory tract. No specific cause found except the patient smoking.

He is advised to do no smoking for 1 mo and check back. No surgery advised at this time.

OF THE FBI, INC

S.T. Tracy

During my absence Saturday 2-11-56, Wick in my office at 2:05 p.m. received a telephone call from former Assistant Director Tracy. He said that at the last Washington Chapter meeting Thursday 2-9-56, he and Jim Egan sat at a table with Karl G. Hastedt who is the Managing Editor of the "Sunday Times-Advertiser," Trenton, New Jersey. Hastedt attended the meeting with Gordon A. Philips of Trenton, New Jersey who is National President. Philips was formerly Chairman of the Publications Committee which published "Grapevine," the organization's monthly publication, and uses Hastedt in its preparation. He is not a former Agent, is not listed in the Society directory but because of his newspaper experience has proven helpful to Philips.

For your information, we have never investigated Hastedt and have no derogatory data on him. He had a tour of the Bureau with Philips and Mortimer J. Davis on 1-17-55. (67-029-226) Our relations with the Trenton "Times-Advertiser" are cordial.

Mr. Tracy said Hastedt had many peculiar ideas and has apparently been misinformed concerning Mr. Hoover. Tracy and Jim Egan straightened him out after he mentioned that he always thought of Mr. Hoover as a Republican and active in politics. The subject was mentioned by Mr. Hastedt during the course of conversation and both Tracy and Egan pointed out the Director actually has never voted and, of course, is neither Republican nor Democrat. Hastedt countered with the fact he felt certain that Mr. Hoover was a Republican. Hastedt had no "gripes" against the Bureau or Mr. Hoover, had favorable things to say but seemed badly misinformed about the FBI generally. Tracy also said that he has received the impression that more and more during Society meetings there is less and less criticism of the Bureau. He said, in fact, today he seldom hears any criticism and he attributes this to the fact that the responsible folks now are in command, have taken over from the former cliques which previously dominated meetings and affairs and the situation is now healthy.

MEMORANDUM

RE: MR. STANLEY J. TRACY

Mr. Tracy entered on duty in the Federal Bureau of Investigation on October 16, 1933, as a Special Agent in Grade CAF 8 with salary at the rate of $2900 per annum. Following a period of training he performed investigative duties in the Salt Lake City and San Francisco Offices of this Bureau and served in a supervisory capacity at the Seat of Government. Mr. Tracy also served as the Assistant Director of the Identification Division. He retired effective at the close of business May 31, 1954, at which time he was occupying the position of Assistant Director with salary of $13,200 per annum in Grade GS 17. His services were satisfactory and nothing of a derogatory nature was known concerning his character or integrity during the period in which he was an employee of this Bureau.

Memorandum prepared for the Special Inquiry Section for transmittal to the Commission on Government Security.

With reference to the investigations of the above-captioned individuals, a question has been raised as to the theory of referring to them as "appointees" in the airtels to the field ordering the investigations since this indicates that they have been appointed to something.

The policy has always been followed in the Special Inquiry Section of the Investigative Division of referring to persons on whom requests for investigation are received from the White House or the various Cabinet officers as "appointees" to distinguish that group of individuals whose services are sought by the Government from those who apply to the Government for employment. This policy was initiated at the time the first request for investigation was received from the Eisenhower Administration in November 1952 on instructions from then Assistant to the Director Ladd on the theory that it would not be proper to refer to such individuals as "applicants." In the majority of cases, the position for which the person is being considered is not identified by the White House or the Cabinet officer and if it involves a Presidential appointment, the word "applicant" would be inaccurate.

The word "applicant" is used in investigations involving persons being considered for employment by the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC), cases referred to the Bureau under Public Law 298 and Departmental Applicant cases. The word "employee" is used in a certain group of cases, particularly the Atomic Energy Act-reinvestigation cases where the individual is and has been employed by AEC for some time. In a very few cases involving persons designated as delegates to the International Labor Organization or World Health Organization conferences, the word "delegate" is used in lieu of "applicant."

The cases from the Commission on Government Security fall in the same category as those from the White House and the Cabinet officers. The same policy has been followed with reference to these cases.

Retired FBI Officials Plan New Library

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22 (INS) Two former top FBI officials said today they hope to start a nationwide fund raising campaign next month for a unique "pro-and-con" library on Communism and other forms of dictatorship.

They also disclosed the library, to be opened in Washington for public use, will include many thousands of volumes and will employ as many as 60 persons when it begins fullscale operations.

The former officials are D. Milton Ladd, former assistant to FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, and Stanley J. Tracy, a retired FBI assistant director. Both men left the bureau last year and this spring formed the "Foundation For American Research, Inc."

The foundation, described in a new brochure as "non-political, nonprofit, nonsectarian and educational" will direct the reference library on Communism, Fascism, and similar movements.

Its brochure, to be distributed nationally in the coming weeks, the foundation will:

"1. Be a central repository or library for books, newspapers, magazines, public reports and other published material useful to an understanding of totalitarianism.

2. Provide research facilities. As soon as practicable, reference indices will be searched upon request.

"3. Carry on educational projects, including publication of data."

Doug Price called me from Los Angeles on the morning of 1/16/56. He has been conferring with Loyd Wright. Wright's physical condition is not good and as soon as he recovers to the point where he can move around he is going out to the desert for a period of time and his return to Washington is unknown.

The one matter that Wright wanted to get resolved was whether or not the Commission would appoint Dean L. Dale Koffman, of the University of California at Los Angeles Law School, as Staff Director and Wright asked if we could give some estimate as to when our investigation would be completed. After checking, I told Price that we hoped to have the investigation completed this weekend and Price requested that when it was completed it should be sent to Wright here in Washington and that Price would then forward it to Wright.

Price then inquired on behalf of Wright whether there would be any restrictions to Wright sharing our summary with the five members of the Commission who are on a subcommittee with Wright. I told Price that our report, naturally, would be classified and that it would be up to the Chairman to protect the classification and that whether he showed it to the members of the Commission was a matter for his determination.

Price then stated that Wright had inquired regarding D. M. Ladd and Stanley Tracy as they understand both will be available as consultants. I told Price that we would be reluctant to recommend any former Bureau personnel for reasons which he very well knew. The fact did remain, however, that both Messrs. Ladd and Tracy left the Bureau in good standing with excellent records; that the question particularly with Mr. Ladd would be whether he was too closely associated with security work while he was in the Bureau and while they had excellent records and were very competent people, we would be reluctant to recommend any former Bureau personnel in view of the attitude which was manifested by some of the members of the Commission. Price stated that for my own information Mr. Wright, as he got more and more acquainted with the subject matter, is becoming more pro-FBI and that Wright told him yesterday that they could not hope to achieve any success at all without the Bureau's assistance.

SERVICE RECORD INQUIRIES

By letter dated 1/17/56 received from Douglas R. Price, Acting Executive Secretary, Commission on Government Security, the FBI was requested to investigate Mr. Tracy and Mr. Ladd from the standpoint of loyalty, character and associations in accordance with provisions of Section 4B, Public Law 304, First Session, 84th Congress. Special Inquiry Section, Investigative Division, is handling this phase of the inquiry and Special Inquiry Section has requested this division to furnish personnel summary memoranda concerning Mr. Ladd's and Mr. Tracy's services. These will be included in the summary which will be prepared by the Special Inquiry Section for referral to the inquirer.

There are attached memoranda concerning both Mr. Ladd and Mr. Tracy which characterize their services as having been satisfactory and which point out that nothing derogatory was known concerning their character and integrity. Such a statement is certainly commensurate with the contents of their respective files.

Mr. Nichols' memorandum of 8/11/55 entitled "Commission on Government Security" pointed out that both Mr. Tracy and Mr. Ladd were anxious to be appointed to the Commission and after the fallacies were pointed out to Mr. Tracy, he agreed and both he and Mr. Ladd then desired to be appointed as consultants on the staff. The files of Mr. Tracy and Mr. Ladd reflect that after they left the Bureau they organized "Foundation for American Research, Inc." Such organization is designed to maintain a reference library on Communism, Fascism and similar movements.

Hoover, director of the bureau, then became an inspector handling field work and subsequently was promoted to assistant director. In the latter capacity his assignment was supervising the highly vital identification division and crime laboratories. He retired two years ago.

"He is one of the most competent men in the country," said a former associate in the FBI. "He is exactly what the governor wants: an attorney with an investigative background. He is trained to carry out orders—no matter how tough. He was one of the top men in the field. And, of course, there is no question about his integrity. He is high class in every respect."

As past president of the George Washington Alumni Association, Tracy has been in San Francisco on a speaking tour as late as 1954.

He liked what he saw in the West and for that reason expressed keen interest in the governor's proposal when approached.

At his Washington office, where he is assistant legal counsel to the commission on federal security, Tracy declined to comment on the impending development except to say he had been "contacted."

FBI Chief to Head Ring Board

By CURLEY GRIEVE

Examiner Sports Editor

Stan J. Tracy, former assistant director in the Federal Bureau of Investigation, is scheduled to become the new $15,000 a year secretary of the California Athletic Commission, The Examiner learned yesterday.

Barring unexpected developments within the next few days, Tracy will become the force behind the "new broom" that Governor Knight expects to carry out recommendations of his investigating committee and cleanup orders from the revamped commission.

The only hitch that may develop is obtaining Tracy's release from his present post on the staff of the Bi-Partisan Commission on Federal Security.

This powerful group, recently activated by Congress, is headed by Loyd Wright, Los Angeles attorney, past president of the American Bar Association, and former member of the California Racing Commission.

Friends of the Governor are interceding with Wright for Tracy's release so that the one-time FBI executive can accept the California post immediately. Otherwise, Tracy could not come here until January 1: Knight has said he would like the key position filled before that time if it were possible.

Even if Tracy's full employment is delayed, a deal probably can be arranged so that he would spend several months here to get the machinery in working order before he finally takes over.

Tracy, 52 and now retired from the FBI, is regarded as the "ideal type" for the important post.

Born in Ogden, Utah, the now slightly graying, smartly dressed investigator was graduated from George Washington University law school and immediately entered FBI work. For a number of years he was secretary for J. Edgar

Tracy Enters Race For AFGE President

Stanley Tracy, retired assistant director of the FBI, will seek the presidency of the American Federation of Government Employees at the union's biennial convention here next month.

Mr. Tracy will run for the post now held by James A. Campbell. Mr. Campbell, AFGE president since 1951, is seeking re-election.

The announcement that Mr. Tracy would seek the AFGE presidency came from Charles J. Sharkey, an AFGE vice president from the Washington area, who said Mr. Tracy had agreed to make the race. Mr. Tracy has long been active in AFGE affairs. Since retiring from the FBI several years ago, Mr. Tracy has been associate counsel for the Bi-Partisan Commission studying the Government's security program.

Ex-FBI Man to Aid Ring Board

A former FBI man, Stan J. Tracy, is in line for the $15,000-a-year job as secretary of the State Athletic Commission, according to word from Sacramento.

Tracy, 52, now is serving as assistant legal counsel to the Bi-Partisan Commission on Federal Security in Washington. If released by the commission he could accept the new post immediately. If not, he would be available to assume it Jan. 1.

If he accepts the post, Tracy would succeed Joe Genshlea, who has said he will retire shortly.

Under the new setup, however, Tracy would have far more authority than Genshlea. Gov. Goodwin J. Knight has suggested the secretary be the driving force in the commission with the five men he appoints to the board setting policies to be carried out by the secretary.

Request received 1/20/56 by letter dated 1/17/56 from Mr. Douglas R. Price, Acting Executive Secretary, Commission on Government Security, for an investigation of former Assistant Director Tracy. Request does not indicate nature of position for which being considered.

In accordance with instructions issued in connection with this request, the field will be instructed to confine its investigation to a check of the records of the U. S. Civil Service Commission (CSC) and checks of the records of the Metropolitan Police Department and the District of Columbia Credit Bureau. It is to be noted that Mr. Tracy lists no references in connection with this employment. No credit or criminal checks will be made concerning any of Mr. Tracy's immediate relatives, which include his mother and a sister and no check will be made of the records of the House Committee on Un-American Activities (HCUA). The summary for the Commission will be confined primarily to Mr. Tracy's past Bureau record.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) The attached airtel be sent to the Washington Field Office requesting a check of the records of CSC and checks of the records of the Metropolitan Police Department and the District of Columbia Credit Bureau concerning Mr. Tracy.

(2) It is recommended that the summary prepared for the Commission include information concerning Mr. Tracy's education and employment prior to entering the Bureau and a statement that persons interviewed in 1933 highly recommended him, all of which will be taken from the Bureau's investigation of Mr. Tracy in 1933. Mr. Tracy called me on February 14 and stated that he would like to come by and see the Director for a few minutes on Thursday or Friday afternoon of this week if convenient. There are a few things he wants to bring the Director up-to-date on, although Tracy did not mention them to me. He was enthusiastic about his conversation with Loyd Wright and is taking the consultant job with the Commission on Government Security early in March. In connection with the foundation which he and Mr. Ladd have been working on, United Fruit Company, Grace Lines and the Association of National Industrialists are all interested.

Tracy further told me that he has been checking further up on the Hill; that he finds there is no inclination to do anything with the Executive Pay Raise Bill until after the primaries in South Carolina. Senator Johnston of South Carolina has personally told Tracy that he has ironed out his difficulties in South Carolina; that he feels that he will come through the primary and will be re-elected; however, he is being very careful to stay away from anything of a controversial nature at this time.

Johnston has as a consultant on the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee James R. Watson, who is President of the Civil Service League of New York. Tracy has gotten to know Watson and the two of them recently spoke on the same platform in Philadelphia. Watson has invited Tracy to come in and discuss with him on an informal basis the Retirement Bill in which Tracy has taken considerable interest. Tracy wants to do two things. In connection with the Retirement Bill, he wants to talk to Watson along the lines of admitting phraseology which will permit Bureau Agents to acquire more than thirty years of service on which retirement benefits could be paid; that once this is done, next year an effort can be made to restore the retirement benefits to the position they had the last few years, namely, upping it 2.5%. I told Tracy I could see no harm or nothing wrong in his exploring this with Mr. Watson.

Tracy further stated that he also felt that it would be desirable to talk to Watson regarding the Executive Pay Raise Bill with the thought in mind of having this cleared on the staff level and possibly putting it in any new bill that Johnston might present. Tracy stated that he thought that before doing this that I should discuss the matter with the Director as he would not want to do anything that the Director would not approve of. I told Tracy I would be glad to mention this to the Director.

recommended that the statement regarding Mr. Tracy's Bureau service be included in the summary, such statement to be prepared by the Administrative Division. The summary will also contain the results of a check of the records of CSC and record checks at the Metropolitan Police Department and the District of Columbia Credit Bureau concerning Mr. Tracy. It will also contain a statement that a current check of the files of this Bureau disclosed no additional pertinent information concerning him.

(3) Inasmuch as investigations for the Commission on Government Security normally include credit and criminal checks on immediate relatives and in a case such as this would also include a check of the records of the HCUA, it is recommended that the summary include a statement that no such checks have been made in connection with the investigation of Mr. Tracy.

DC Stanley ~~Tracy~~ called me at home late last evening stating that Mickey Ladd and he had been in conference with ~~Lloyd Wright~~, ~~Dean Coffman~~, Professor Edwards, Director of Research of the Commission, ~~Bob Collier~~, ~~John Dardin~~ who is Senator Stennis' man, City Solicitor ~~Lieberman~~ of St. Louis who will become General Counsel. Coffman and ~~Lieberman~~ will be in town only about once a month. Ladd will be Washington Director of the Staff under Dean Coffman, Collier will be Associate under Lieberman and Tracy will help Collier. The Commission has made arrangements with the General Accounting Office of the Civil Service Commission for Ladd and Tracy to go on the payroll without affecting their retirement; however, they plan to go to Civil Service Commission today to personally check on the matter. Professor Edwards, Director of Research, will come to Washington only periodically until after June 1. Then he will go on the Staff full time.

~~Lieberman~~ is going back to Florida on Wednesday and will be back on March 15 to devote full time to the Staff. It was agreed yesterday that there would be no public hearings, that the Commission would not deal with individual cases but would deal essentially with procedural matters. Wright stated that the leaders of both the Democratic and Republican Parties do not want the Commission to go into public hearings until after the election and those in session yesterday agreed that there probably would be no need for public hearings at all. lt

The problem of liaison with the Executive branch of the Government was discussed at great length and ~~Lloyd Wright~~ is going to the White House to pay his respects today and endeavor to work out some way whereby the Commission can get access to the information they will need. Wright will also contact all members of the Cabinet he has not previously met this week. Tracy and Ladd state that they want to come by the Bureau in the next day or two and pay their respects to the Director.

Security Commission Picks General Counsel

The new Commission on Government Security yesterday announced appointment of Samuel H. Liberman, city counselor of St. Louis, as its general counsel. The Commission also has hired Stanley J. Tracy, retired assistant FBI director, as associate counsel; D. Milton Ladd, retired top assistant to FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, as administrative director; and L. Dale Coffman, University of California at Los Angeles law school dean, as consultant. The 12-member Commission was created last Aug. 9 by Congress to investigate the Federal loyalty-security program. Its members were named Nov. 10 and have held three meetings in as many months. The Commission's final report must be written by Dec. 31 and its business wound up by March 31, 1957.

"We started from scratch and the fact that it was so close to the holidays didn't help us. But we're off the ground now and flying," Loyd Wright, Commission chairman, said yesterday. The Commission has been granted $50,000, but has asked in additional $200,000 to carry it through June 30 and is now working on a supplemental budget for the next fiscal year. The present payroll of 15 employees is expected to be increased to 60 or 80. It is housed on the third floor of the General Accounting Office Building, former quarters of the Hoover Commission.

The Commission will collect security information from existing statutes, interview Government agencies and their prime contractors in private industry and funnel the correlated data through citizen group task forces. The Commission itself is not only empowered to send its report to Congress, but also to make legislative recommendations.

"It's not our job to snoop out Communists," Wright explained. "The procedure is all that we're dealing with—to see that it is fair, that it is American, that every citizen has his rights preserved, and that at the same time the security of the Nation is preserved."

Other members of the Commission staff, disclosed last month are: Executive Director Douglas Price, 26, formerly assistant to the deputy director of the International Cooperation Administration and before that an employee of the Republican National Committee; Research Director Richard A. Edwards, associate professor of government and law at Lafayette College, Pa.; Associate Counsel Robert A. Collier, Washington attorney, former FBI agent and associate counsel in the Army-McCarthy hearings; Assistant Counsel Elwyn J. Darden, New Albany, Miss. attorney and former legislative assistant to Sen. John Stennis (D-Miss.).

Carl McFarland, president of Montana State University, originally was selected as general counsel last month but later declined. Other members of the Commission are:

Senator Stennis, vice chairman; Sen. Norris Cotton (R-N. H.); and Susan Riley, education professor at George Peabody College, Nashville. These —with Wright—were appointed by Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

James P. McGrannery, former Attorney General; Louis S. Rothschild, Under Secretary of Commerce; Carter L. Burgess, Assistant Secretary of Defense, and Franklin D. Murphy, chancellor of the University of Kansas—all appointed by President Eisenhower. Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.); Rep. William M. McCulloch (R-Ohio); Edwin L. McClellan, former New Mexico Governor, and James L. Noel Jr., Houston attorney—all appointed by Speaker Sam Rayburn.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. TOLSON
MR. NICHOLS

On Thursday, March 15, 1956, I saw former Assistant Directors Ladd and Tracy, who called to pay their respects and generally bring me up to date on the new work upon which they have embarked with the Wright Commission looking into the Government Employment Security Program.

I pointed out to both Mr. Ladd and Mr. Tracy that I had had a visit from Mr. Wright some weeks ago and that Mr. Wright had sought both the formal and informal cooperation of this Bureau and I had informed Mr. Wright he would receive the fullest cooperation to the extent which the law required us to give it to him, but beyond that I did not intend to inject myself into the operations of the Wright Commission with any observations or suggestions. I stated that I predicated my attitude in this matter upon the hostility shown toward the FBI by Congressman Walter, a member of the Wright Commission, when it was first formed.

Very truly yours,

John Edgar Hoover

SUBJECT: COMMISSION ON GOVERNMENT SECURITY

I missed Messrs. Ladd and Tracy when they were in the Bureau on Monday and Tuesday. I talked to Ladd late Tuesday evening and both Tracy and he came by to see me on 2-29-56. They said that Dean Coffman has been appointed as Executive Director of the staff. Both Tracy and Ladd are favorably impressed with him. They say he is very sharp, thinks clearly on security matters, he is solid and he can be of great influence for good with the Commission; however, he does not contemplate spending too much time in Washington.

Ladd has signed up as Administrative Director at $15,000 per year. Tracy has signed up as ^{Associate} Counsel at $15,000 per year. Ladd will enter on duty on March 15 and Tracy will enter on duty March 1. Ladd was a little concerned about Stennis' man Dardin until he had a lengthy discussion with him last evening. He now feels that Dardin will have a good attitude and viewpoint.

Ladd asked that his regrets be extended to the Director at not having had the opportunity to say hello. I pointed out to both Ladd and Tracy last evening and this morning the heavy schedule which the Director has had. The Director might wish to send them the attached letters.

LIBRARY ON SUBVERSION

Having no single source, government or private, equipped to provide the public with information on present and past activities of totalitarian groups, two former agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation have launched a project for a free public library on subversive organizations and individuals.

D. Milton Ladd, an FBI agent for 26 years, is president of the library. Stanley J. Tracy, who retired as assistant director of the FBI after more than 20 years of service, is vice-president. They call the library The Foundation for American Research. They mean to stock it with unbiased and reliable source material for and against totalitarianism.

Though they will not evaluate the material, it will be available in one place a vast storehouse of much needed information in the war to preserve the American people from attacks at home and abroad.

It has been noted that former Assistant Director Tracy, while on the Special Correspondents' List, has not been receiving the FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin since his retirement. On the other hand, former Assistant to the Director D. Milton Ladd has been receiving the Law Enforcement Bulletin, in accord with the Director's approval since February 24, 1954.

In view of the fact that Messrs. Ladd and Tracy are, of course, now working at the same place, we are adding Mr. Tracy's name to the list to receive the Law Enforcement Bulletin unless advised to the contrary.

MR. NICHOLS:

Tom Donegan called from New York while you were out on 6/19/56, advising that Stanley Tracy gave a cocktail party at his house for the staff of the Commission. The only outsiders there were Tompkins of the Department, Tom Naughten and Donegan. Loyd Wright was in attendance and the significant thing Donegan stated was Wright's advice that while the rest of the Commission did not go along with him on authorizing an interim report be submitted that he had decided that there would be no interim report. Donegan stated Wright was in New York on 6/19/56, and was leaving for Europe today and would not return until September and Donegan inquired as to just what the situation would be if some of the Commissioners got out of line while he was away and Wright stated that Ladd would take care of that.

Donegan also advised that Wright indicated the staff would be increased to approximately 65 persons and Wright also indicated that at the first meeting of the Commission there was some dissension and apparently Wright was in a talkative mood as he indicated some of the dissension stemmed from McGranery and that also Humphry was critical, however, Wright is optimistic as to the future of the Commission and was going to give subcommittee assignments to some of the Commissioners including the woman Commissioner but the nature of these assignments Donegan did not know. He said he would try to find this out when he is back in Washington on Thursday of this week. Donegan asked that the items mentioned herein be kept restricted in the Bureau and there was no need to advise Rogers or the Attorney General as Tompkins was present and standing along side of Wright and Donegan and has the same information regarding the interim report. Tompkins advised Donegan that there was no need to advise Brownell or Rogers as he, Tompkins, would take care of the matter. Donegan also indicated that Wright stated that Cain, Carroll and Allen Dulles had been before the Commission and that Cain was not too emotional and that apparently the Commission was impressed by these persons' statements before the Commission.

With reference to public research projects for the Criminal Law Section of American Bar Association, there are set out below a number of suggestions. It is realized that the current survey of the Administration of Criminal Justice in the United States, being conducted by the American Bar Foundation, may encompass some of these suggested projects. Certain other items have been discussed previously as matters which might be researched by the Criminal Law Section.

A. JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

1. During 1955 the arrests of young persons under 18 increased 11.4% in 1,162 cities. Of the arrests for major crimes in 1,477 cities, 42.3% were of persons under 18. Of all persons arrested for auto theft, 62.2% were under the age of 18.
2. No uniform pattern exists throughout the states as to who is to be considered a juvenile, how a juvenile offender is to be handled or as to the extent of punishment to be accorded.
3. The need for juvenile aide bureaus in local police departments and for fewer restrictions on police in the handling of juvenile offenders.
4. Laws as to the fingerprinting of juveniles are far from uniform; in some local jurisdictions it is forbidden; in others, the juvenile may be fingerprinted only when arrested for certain offenses or only after a stipulated number of arrests.

B. STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS OR LIMITATIONS OF ACTIONS IN CRIMINAL CASES

Limitations of the time within which prosecutions may be commenced has long been favored. There is need for re-examination of the statutes governing this since too often they serve to protect the guilty.

C. SELF-INCRIMINATION

1. A study should be made of the rules against compelling self-incrimination to determine what was intended to be regarded as compulsion and whether the protection has been carried too far.

ENCLOSURE

D. THE LAW ON SEARCH INCIDENTAL TO ARREST

1. The meaning of "strictly evidentiary material" is not clear in all jurisdictions and interpretations are not uniform; general rule is that such material cannot be seized in a search incidental to an arrest.
2. Jurisdiction of police to search beyond area occupied by person arrested.
3. Right of police to continue search after finding "fruit of the crime."

E. EDUCATION OF PUBLIC AND POLICE ON RESPONSIBILITIES AND CONDUCT AS WITNESSES

1. Need for such education to assure fair administration of criminal justice.
2. Conducting of public forums to educate general public.
3. Issuance of pamphlets containing instruction on the subject for distribution to the public.

F. SURVEY OF LAW ENFORCEMENT

1. Salary scales and adequacy of personnel.
2. Training standards and facilities.
3. Equipment including vehicles, weapons and tools of scientific crime detection.
4. Political shackles placed upon law enforcement agencies; in recruitment, promotions and actual enforcement of the law.
5. Funds available for salary, recruitment, training, equipment and promotions.

G. MENTAL ILLNESS AND CRIME

1. Analysis of laws relating to offenders who are mentally ill.
2. Legislation providing for confinement, beyond the maximum period permitted by the law, for mentally or emotionally unstable criminals whose prognosis is such that further supervision and treatment are required before they can be returned to society.

3. Advisability of requiring that law enforcement agencies be notified by responsible authorities whenever a criminal who has a past history of mental or emotional instability is released in their jurisdictions.

H. SEX OFFENDERS

1. Analysis of the laws relating to sex offenders.
2. Need for requiring that these offenders not automatically be unleashed upon society at the expiration of their sentences, but that they be confined until treatment (both physical and mental) has prepared them for a safe return to society.
3. Need for requiring that released sex offenders register with law enforcement agencies in the vicinity of their homes and their jobs.

I. GENERAL TECHNICALITIES IN THE LAW WHICH IMPEDE JUSTICE

1. Declaring search warrants, arrest warrants or indictments invalid because of minor errors of wording or because of typographical errors.
2. The entire area of privilege could well be reviewed particularly with respect to the husband-wife relationship.
3. Laws and court decisions concerning the validity of arrests made by officers who are not in uniform or who are using unmarked police cars.

J. LABOR RACKETEERING

1. Reluctance of Employers to cooperate in criminal prosecutions; reasons and remedy.
2. Effect on Public-----increased building and living costs---lowering of moral standards.

K. JUVENILE COURT PROCEDURES

1. Need for Modernization.
2. Search for Most Effective Procedures.
(Judge Gustav Schramm, Allegheny County, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, is considered an outstanding Juvenile Court Judge. He has developed court procedures which have been studied by Jurists from Europe and Asia as well as by officials from other parts of this country.)

L. USE OF AMERICAN COURTS FOR PROPAGANDA BY COMMUNISTS

1. Study of past trials for evidence of deliberate use of Courts for propaganda purposes by American Communists.
2. Study of ways and means of preventing such use without denying pertinent Constitutional Rights of the individual.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

We wish to congratulate you on your forthright and most effective Address before the National Parole Conference earlier this week. Over the years you have pointed out the abuses in the parole system in such a manner that parole and probation practices have been improved, if not perfected. We sincerely hope that you continue in your objective and constructive criticism of parole and probation abuses.

With every good wish,

Sincerely,

The Federal Diary

By Jerry Klutz

U. S. Employees' Gains Over Last 10 Years Listed by Murray

THE FEDERAL EMPLOYEE, says Rep. Tom Murray (D-Tenn.), has been given a "new look" that makes him the envy of his colleagues in private industry and other governments.

The powerful chairman of the House Post Office & Civil Service Committee placed a statement in The Congressional Record in which he listed the employee gains made in the past 10 years. He said in part:

"Today's employee has security in his job. He has had salary increases amounting to over 60 per cent. His retirement annuity has been directly increased by over 25 per cent with new and much more liberal provisions for his surviving widow and children.

"If he dies his beneficiaries receive a year's salary as a result of low cost life insurance. He has opportunity for both honorary and monetary awards up to $25,000 for outstanding service or improvements in Government operations. He has protection against reduction in his salary in cases where his position has been downgraded as a result of reclassification.

"He has better opportunity for recognition of his qualifications and efforts through improved classification systems and promotion programs.

"He has re-employment and priority placement rights in cases where he is separated due to reduction in force in his agency.

"He has greatly improved appeal rights through betterments in the appeals procedure and system. Compensation for overtime, Sunday and holiday work has been greatly increased and standardized. His annual and sick leave privileges have been extended and improved.

He is required to wear a uniform this uniform is now furnished by way of an allowance. If his duty requires that he be bonded he no longer is required to furnish his own bond. In cases where a notary's commission is required authority has been granted to the department and agency to defray the expenses formerly paid by the employee.

"In my judgment," Murray concluded, "no other employment, whether it be private or governmental, does the employee have as many benefits as he does in the Federal Government."

These and other employee reforms over the past several years are impressive.

STANLEY J. TRACY is campaigning for national president of the AFL's AFGE on a platform that calls for: A 35-hour week in Government; pay raises for Federal and District Government employees; restoration of 30 days annual and 15 days sick leave for all employees, and major medical and health insurance for employees.

JAMES A. CAMPBELL, a candidate for reelection as AFGE's national president, has urged the Democratic Party to include in its platform these promises: To protect and extend the merit system; a fair and non-political employee loyalty program; adequate pay raises for Federal employees, and promotions based on merit in Government.

CSC: Nicholas J. Oganovic will be appointed director of Civil Service's Denver regional office as of Sept. 1. He's assistant chief of the agency's Bureau of Departmental Operations here. Edmund S. Burrows, the Denver director for the past year, will return here to be chief of the Personnel Management Review Section.

JOBS: Civil Service has exams open for valuation engineers, $4480 to $7370, for openings in Interior's Bureau of Land Management. Radio engineers, $4480 to $5335, in Federal Communications. Geophysicists, $8670 to $11,610, in Interior's Geological Survey. Simulated flight trainer repairers, $2.12 an hour, apply at Bolling Air Force Base here. Dorothy Jones is the first employee at National Science to be given an incentive award.

LODGE 41 BACKS TRACY-OLDING TICKET FOR AFGE NATIONAL PRESIDENT AND SECRETARY-TREASURER

A National Committee for the election of Stanley J. Tracy and Henrietta E. Olding has been formed and is actively campaigning for the election of Stanley J. Tracy as President and the re-election of Henrietta E. Olding as Secretary-Treasurer of the American Federation of Government Employees.

National Vice President Timothy J. Kelly, New York, John J. Smith, Philadelphia, and Charles F. Sharkey, Washington, are Co-Chairmen of the Committee.

National Vice President Sharkey has appointed a local committee in the Washington area with Joseph Agresto, Bureau of Employees Compensation Lodge 39, Christian H. Behnke, Navy Department Lodge 1, Colonel Stuart F. Frank, Veterans Administration Lodge 17, George Obata, National Housing Lodge 476, and W. H. Richardson, Health, Education, and Welfare Lodge 41, serving as Co-Chairmen.

In addition, the membership includes Richard Balsche, General Services Lodge 1060, Joseph Foster and Kenneth Jenkins, Health, Education, and Welfare Lodge 41, Theodore Ward, Navy Department Lodge 1, Mrs. Evelyn Glem, National Housing Lodge 476, Charles McDowell, Labor Lodge 12, and Warwick O'Neill, Veterans Administration Lodge 17.

HEW Lodge 41 had previously unanimously endorsed the candidacy for re-election of Henrietta E. Olding and authorized Lodge President Richardson to endorse the candidacy of Stanley J. Tracy when a formal announcement of his candidacy was made. Lodge 41 is proud to endorse and actively support the candidacy of two such outstanding persons to fill the most responsible positions of the American Federation of Government Employees. For the benefit of all members of the AFGE, we are glad to publish a biographical sketch of the candidates Lodge 41 feels are the best qualified to serve conscientiously and honestly the American Federation of Government Employees in the best interests of the Federation and not for personal prestige.

STANLEY J. TRACY, Associate Counsel, Commission on Government Security, Washington, D. C. Born in Ogden, Utah, September 11, 1900.

Mr. Tracy has long been identified with the Labor movement. Veteran of World War I and was a Lt. Commander, USNR (Resigned) assigned to Naval Intelligence in World War II. Education: LLB degree, George Washington University Law School (1925).

While attending the University was employed in the Bureau of Labor Statistics, U.S. Department of Labor. During this employment, he engaged in many special studies in fields related to the Labor movement, including hours, wages, job analysis and classification, socioeconomic and cost-of-living studies. At the time of his resignation from the Bureau of Labor Statistics, he was Assistant Economist in charge of Industrial and Economic Law, and was co-author of the first labor law reference book published by the Department of Labor, entitled Labor Laws and Court Decisions (1925). This was an annotated analysis of all Labor Laws of the 48 States and their interpretation by Federal and State courts. Articles by him were published in the Monthly Labor Review.

After being admitted to the bar of the District of Columbia and the State of Utah he joined the Naturalization Service of the Department of Labor in Detroit, Michigan, where he handled the naturalization of aliens in Federal and State Courts from 1928 to 1932. Was an attorney with the Veterans Administration 1932-1933 at Salt Lake City, Utah.

Throughout his career he has maintained a continuing interest in Labor, and the Labor movement. He has been an active member of the American Federation of Government Employees since the middle 30's, and is presently a member of the Department of Justice Lodge. He was active in the fight against infiltration of the AFGE several years ago. He has attended most National Conventions of the AFGE since the Atlantic City Convention and has been Lodge President of Justice Lodge 334. In the past he has written editorials for the Government Standard and has written many AFGE and other scripts for radio and television.

Member of the Bar Association of the State of Utah and admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of the United States. For several years he has been Assistant Secretary of the Criminal Law Section of the American Bar Association and is also a member of the Labor Law Section.

Mr. Tracy was associated for 20 years with the Federal Bureau of Investigation, U.S. Department of Justice, of which he was an Assistant Director. Recently he directed a study on World Population Migrations at George Washington University which was published in 1956, a study very vital to the American Labor force.

Mr. Tracy is active in civic affairs, a member of the Rotary International and other organizations, and is Vice President of the Foundation For American Research.

On March 1, 1956, he was selected as Associate Counsel of the Bipartisan Commission on Government Security, a legislative Commission to make a study of the many security programs of the Federal Government to insure fairness to employees the proper security of America.

Married, 3 children. Resides at College Park, Maryland.

HENRIETTA E. OLDING has had a varied, interesting and for a woman a somewhat unusual career.

In business she occupied a very responsible position as resident manager in full control of an extensive American industrial operation in a foreign country, having full power of attorney for the owners.

In Government she has filled many positions in the Internal Revenue Service including supervision for many years of a large technical division in New York City. This was the Office Audit Section consisting of some ninety Internal Revenue Agents (Investigative), all of whom are required to be professionally trained accountants. The members of this Unit dealt with the ablest accountants and attorneys of the largest corporations having headquarters in New York City. She had the distinction of being qualified for and occupying one of the highest grades in the Field Service of the Agency, and held the highest grade for a woman on the professional accounting staff of the Internal Revenue Service.

In the AFGE she is a charter member of Lodge No. 15 which was among the first group of Lodges receiving the AFGE charter from the American Federation of Labor in August, 1932. She was elected National Vice President for the Second AFGE District in 1935 and served continuously until elected National Secretary-Treasurer in 1953. Her record in the office of National Vice-President was noteworthy for her success in organizing new lodges and holding and increasing the membership of existing lodges. During her term of office the membership in that district for a considerable period was the highest of all Field Districts.

Miss Olding was re-elected National Secretary-

Treasurer by the Chicago convention in 1954. Her performance of the duties in her present office is in keeping with her unusually fine background of training and experience and has been of the utmost benefit to the Federation.

Miss Olding's qualifications for the office of National Secretary-Treasurer are based on capability and honesty demonstrated over a long period of service in Government and private industry, in positions having professional requirements and administrative responsibility. A candidate for re-election, Henrietta Olding has an unmatched record of outstanding service to the AFGE and to the Labor movement.

DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS TO MEET WITH AFGE CONVENTION DELEGATES

At the suggestion of Lodge 41 officials, Secretary Folsom has arranged for his top staff to meet with the delegates from Health, Education, and Welfare Lodges who will be attending the Convention. Because of other conventions, previous commitments and vacations, some of the top officials will be absent but we are assured that those officials available will be happy to meet with our delegates and the time, place and date have been set--9:00 AM, Wednesday morning, August 29, in Room 5051 of the Health, Education, and Welfare Building. An invitation is also being extended to the heads of all operating agencies and bureaus of the Department to be present at this meeting. A meeting has also been arranged with the Director of Personnel and other Personnel officials for 4:30 PM, Monday, August 27, in Room G-755, Health, Education, and Welfare Building.

SHARKEY TO INSTALL LODGE 41 OFFICERS

National Vice-President Charles F. Sharkey will be on hand August 2 at the regular Lodge meeting in Room G-751 to install the officers for the 1956-57 term of office.

At the July meeting the nominating committee recommended re-election of last year's officers: W. H. Richardson for President; Dorothea McMahon for 1st Vice-President; Catherine Harris for 2nd Vice-President; Barbara Washington for Secretary; Richard W. Bowman for Treasurer; and J. Carroll Wilson for Sergeant-at-arms.

LODGE 41 SUBMITS PROPOSED REVISIONS OF AFGE CONSTITUTION FOR ACTION BY THE CONVENTION IN AUGUST

Lodge 41 has submitted to the National Secretary-Treasurer two proposals for amendments to the National Constitution of the AFGE. One proposal is to require that names and addresses of all Lodge Presidents be furnished upon appropriate request to any AFGE Lodge president. The other proposal is to provide that no paid employee of AFGE can seek an elective office while so employed. The Resolutions as submitted are:

WHEREAS: Lodge Presidents on having desire to contact other Lodges within their own District or other Districts for the purpose of communication; and

WHEREAS: Presidents of Lodges are unable to secure this information from the National Office of the AFGE because of Constitutional restrictions;

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that Article XII, Section 8 read as follows: On April first of each year, the National Secretary-Treasurer shall prepare a roster listing the names and addresses of all Lodge Presidents and Secretaries and field of membership of the Lodges of the American Federation of Government Employees in the United States and Territories and Foreign countries. A copy of such roster shall be furnished, on request, to the President of any Lodge in good standing.

WHEREAS: A paid employee of the National Office of the American Federation of Government Employees is an announced candidate for the elective office of National Secretary-Treasurer of the AFGE, and;

WHEREAS: The candidacy of a paid employee for elective office raises questions as to whether his activities are concerned with his paid employment or with his candidacy for elective office; and

WHEREAS: A paid employee has a special advantage in running for elective office because of the nature of his position; and

WHEREAS: The candidacy of a paid employee for elective office confuses the proper administrative relationship of employees and elective officers;

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that Article VII of the National Constitution be amended by adding a Section 8 as follows: No paid employee of the American Federation of Government Employees may be a candidate for any elective office within the AFGE while remaining on the pay roll of the AFGE.

LODGE 41 STILL OPPOSES A RAISE IN NATIONAL AFGE DUES

As reported in the last issue of THE FORTY-ONER, we are still opposed to a raise in the National AFGE dues as proposed by President Campbell and a few others. Lodge 41's position remains the same, that is, we feel that no effort should be made to raise the dues until there is a definite showing that there is adequate need for a raise and that current income is being utilized to the best possible extent.

Since our last issue appeared Lodge 41 President has received a call from a member of the staff of the National AFGE office taking exception to our stand on the proposal and stating that a raise in dues was necessary or perhaps a certain paid employee could not continue employment there. It would seem that this is an example of why a raise in dues is not necessary when the paid staff take time out to attempt to educate the membership of the necessity of dues raises rather than do the job for which he was hired. Also another paid employee has been designated to handle the sales of Convention Banquet tickets to Lodges in the Washington area when he should be out organizing AFGE Lodges in the area and helping to get new members. This same organizer has been requested on at least two occasions to contact individuals in a HEW installation in Washington to help in organizing an AFGE local there. We don't think he has honored this request. There is also another organizer who is regularly assigned to another District who has been brought to the Washington office of AFGE, against the advice of a majority of the Executive Council. Can't say exactly what he is doing here. Sure hope he is being trained to go back to his District and organize a new AFGE Lodge in every Government installation in the District and strengthen the lodges already there.

Then also we have in our National office a paid staff member who denies he is a candidate for a National elective position but he appears to be campaigning "on company time."

There's no use prolonging the agony folks. When we know that additional money is needed Health, Education, and Welfare Lodge 41, AFGE will be among the first to campaign for a raise in the dues to provide the services we all want and feel that we are entitled to as dues paying members and which we feel we are not now getting.

Merit Board Promotions Hit by Lawton at AFGE

Commissioner Fears Proposed System Would Eliminate Supervisory Opinion

By JOSEPH YOUNG

The administration today expressed its opposition to the plan that would set up merit promotion boards in Federal agencies to determine the promotions of Government employees.

In a speech prepared for delivery later today before the convention of the AFL-CIO American Federation of Government Employees in the Willard Hotel, Civil Service Commissioner Frederick Lawton declared:

"Any proposal that calls for elimination of wise supervisory judgment as a factor in promotion systems will result in inequitable treatment of thousands of Federal employees."

The AFGE's executive council earlier this year indorsed a merit board promotion system to determine promotions of Federal employees, declaring that the present system of allowing supervisors to be the final judges of promotions has resulted in personal favoritism and patronage. The AFGE convention is expected to indorse its executive council action.

Legislation Forecast

Legislation to this effect was introduced in the past Congress by Chairman Johnston of the Senate Civil Service Committee and Senator Johnston told the convention yesterday that his group would act favorably on such a bill next year.

Mr. Lawton disagreed with such an approach. He told the AFGE delegates:

"Such a proposal fails to recognize the fact that some agencies are operating very fine promotion systems."

The CSC official acknowledged that considerable improvements can be made in the promotion systems in many agencies and said the commission is now preparing to make suitable recommendations to agencies to improve the promotion program.

However, he declared that any standardized procedure such as merit promotion and strict reliance on written exams for promotions would not work out.

Cites Human Element

"There are elements of job capabilities that cannot be measured by any formula that refuses to recognize that the person being considered for promotion is a human being, but instead casts him in the role of a machine whose output, ability and potential can be totally and accurately scored by purely mechanical means," Mr. Lawton added.

Mr. Lawton indorsed the greater use of exams for promotion purposes but said this "should supplement, not supplant, the use of wise supervisory judgment."

Meanwhile, the AFGE election fight for its national presidency waxed hotter today.

Supporters of AFGE President James A. Campbell, who is being opposed for re-election by Stanley Tracy, charged that Mr. Tracy, while an assistant director of the FBI, refused to let the AFGE organize in the office which he supervised.

The Campbell supporters declared Mr. Tracy's candidacy "is an insult to the intelligence of the delegates."

Mr. Tracy's supporters continued on Page A-2, Col. 1

tend their candidate's background as a Federal executive and as an attorney qualify him as the best man for the AFGE presidency. The election will be held tomorrow on the concluding day of the convention.

AFL-CIO President George Meany, in a message to the AFGE convention, urged an intensive drive to organize Federal employees.

Federal employees have fallen far behind industrial workers in obtaining benefits and gains in working conditions and can only hope to catch up by being heavily organized, Mr. Meany declared.

At the convention's banquet last night, Army Secretary Wilber M. Brucker paid tribute to the Government's merit system and said the Army Department is taking steps to strengthen the merit system and provide greater opportunities for advancement among its civilian employees.

Mr. Brucker said the Army is embarking on a program to provide training and leadership courses for promising civilian employees and also is establishing a system whereby civilian employees will have a chance to advance their careers by taking overseas jobs for several years.

In addition, Mr. Brucker disclosed that the Army has set up a research and fellowship study program, whereby 25 to 40 of the Army's most promising civilian employees will receive grants to permit them to spend from six to 12 months in study at leading educational institutions to further their careers.

Another speaker, Representative Rhodes, Democrat of Pennsylvania, said it is essential that the forthcoming 85th Congress approve legislation giving official collective bargaining rights to Federal employe unions and setting up grievance procedures for Federal workers.

Mr. Rhodes also called on the Government to take steps to ease any threat to the jobs of Federal workers that might be caused by increased use of automation.

At yesterday's afternoon session, Senator Johnston, Democrat of South Carolina, said his Senate committee not only will take steps on Federal employe pay raise legislation, health insurance and other benefits, but will act to increase the annuities of Federal workers already retired.

The writer again attended the morning session of the A. F. G. E. Convention being held in Washington, at which time a vote was cast for Mr. Tracy in connection with the elections for a national Vice-President. At about 2 p.m. this afternoon, after all lodges had been canvassed for their vote, an unofficial ballot reflected that James A. Campbell was again elected President by a margin of about 4,000 votes. The unofficial count at that time was approximately 22,000 votes for Campbell and 18,000 votes for Tracy.

I met Mr. Tracy on the way out of the Convention and he stated that he considered the results of the balloting a success for him, as it was his first venture into the political field. I gathered from his remarks that he has all intentions of trying again in another two years. I left headquarters before the official ballot had been registered but will attempt to attain these figures and furnish you the complete results.

The above is furnished for your information.

Stanley Tracy is taking a vacation and is driving down to New Orleans to attend the annual convention of the Society of Former Agents. Tracy showed me the other day a code of ethics which he and Ladd have worked up which is excellent. They are submitting it to the executive committee and have already had enthusiastic reports from a couple of the members. I, of course, did not make any comment on the code of ethics other than to thank Tracy for letting me see it.

Thought you might be interested in a run down on the convention just completed.

THE TRACY-CAMPBELL RACE FOR THE PRESIDENCY:

As you know, Mr. Tracy has been active in the AFGE many years and about two months ago a certain group urged that he run for the presidency. He was running against the incumbent Mr. James A. Campbell, who has been the head for the past 5 years.

The Campbell forces attacked Tracy on the basis of (1) That he had not been active in AFGE affairs, particularly since his retirement, and by innuendo that he had not been overactive prior to that time; (2) That Tracy, while an official of the FBI, would not permit the AFGE to organize in the sections over which he had control. The charges are set forth in Exhibit #1 (Washington Star, August 29, 1956).

This attack was further implemented by a leaflet (Exhibit #2) which stated Tracy had never held office in the Federation with an exception of a brief period when he served as temporary president of Lodge 334 (Justice). Leaflet also stated he had never been a delegate to an AFGE convention. (Both these points were untrue in that he was president of the lodge and served as delegate to several conventions.) They characterized Tracy's candidacy as an "insult to the intelligence of the Delegates."

Tracy answered this with a retraction which was a copy of the column of Joseph Young of the Washington Star, August 30. (Exhibit #3) In this, Tracy denounces the charge that he had refused to let the AFGE organize in his office while in the FBI by stating that the incident occurred in the 30's when the Department of Justice, because of picketing by a left-wing AFGE group, had barred outside speakers. The retraction continues: "As a subordinate, Mr. Tracy said, he was obliged to follow this order. The left-wing group was subsequently expelled by the national AFGE, which as part of its constitution bars strikes or picketing by its members."

CRIME

Memorandum to Mr. Nichols

August 31, 1956

The election was a close one, Tracy missing only by about 3,000 votes out of 40,000. Tracy told SA Medler following the election that he was very much pleased with his showing and implied that he would venture into the campaign for the presidency in another two years. (Clipping concerning election attached, Exhibit #4.)

OTHER ITEMS OF INTEREST DURING THE CONVENTION:

Speech by Olin Johnston:

There is attached a summary of daily proceedings (Exhibit #5) for August 28, 1956, which includes the pertinent portion of Senator Olin D. Johnston's talk at the convention. It is noted that he emphasizes again the "Establishment of a fair and nonpolitical loyalty program." It is believed that pressure in this direction, together with the recent Supreme Court decision, could greatly affect the Bureau's name check program.

Speech by Congressman George M. Rhodes of Pennsylvania:

Rhodes spoke at the banquet on the night of August 28. He read a campaign speech in which he emphasized that he was a liberal and as such was critical of the entire security program as it affected Government employees. He made no mention of the Bureau.

CONCLUSION:

The various sessions were attended by Delegate Medler and Alternate Cleaver and Kemper of Crime Records. They covered those speakers and programs wherein they felt there might be statements concerning the Bureau or the security program. No mention of the Bureau was made and generally speaking the convention confined itself to the general welfare of Government employees, including possible pay increase and praise for the recently passed retirement benefits.

Stanley Tracy called me upon his return from New Orleans where he attended the convention of the Society of Former Special Agents. Jim Carlson was elected president. In his so-called inaugural speech he paid a great tribute to the Bureau which was interrupted with applause. Tracy stated that there was a uniformly friendly and wholesome feeling manifested toward the Bureau.

The one unfortunate thing which occurred was the election of Russ Kramer as vice president of the Mountain Region. The voting was on a national basis and not by region. This, according to Tracy, was the same thing that happened when Ed Morgan was elected [redacted]

Tracy further stated that Tompkins of the Department made an outstanding speech which was certainly well received. We, of course, had seen the speech and a letter has already gone to Tompkins on the speech which was very commendatory of the Bureau. In introducing Tompkins, Gordon Philips referred to him as a future Governor of New Jersey. Philips himself was high in his praise of the Bureau.

Tracy had prepared a draft of a code of ethics. It was not adopted in the executive committee meeting. Tracy has not had a chance to get the inside dope on this as yet other than the fact that things were going fast and several matters had to be passed over. He will follow up and secure additional details.

You will recall that recently former SA [redacted] conducted himself in an unbecoming manner, [redacted]

Tracy protested his actions. He was connected with the former agents running Fidelifax. THE HISTORY OF AN INSTITUTION
RESPECTED IN THE UNITED STATES
AND ADMIRER IN THE WHOLE WORLD

As an important service of public interest, we start publication today in "DIARIO LAS AMERICAS", our Spanish section, of a series of articles on the history, functioning and jurisdiction of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, of the United States of America, institution which the people of this country respect and the whole world admires.

This Federal Bureau of Investigation is respected by the people of the United States because they see in it a scientific organization at the service of justice and the security of the citizens and of the Republic. The honest citizen knows he has nothing to fear from the F. B. I. and that, on the other hand, has much to be grateful for, because of its zeal for the benefit of social tranquility, of national peace and order in all their manifestations.

This institution, universally known as the F.B.I. (Federal Bureau of Investigation) is admired in the whole world because the scientists, dedicated to investigations in all the progressive countries acknowledge that the F.B.I. functions with extraordinary precision and a high sense of responsibility.

Very satisfactory has to be, for the eminent North-American citizen, Mr. John Edgar Hoover, to have been the first Director and organizer of this prestigious Federal Agency of Investigation, as it functions now and he still heads, which merits, for its efficiency and honorability, the respect and admiration of the people of the United States and the admiration of the whole world.

F.B.I. UNA INSTITUCION RESPETADA

Con un importante servicio de interés público, DIARIO LAS AMERICAS comienza a publicar hoy una serie de artículos sobre la historia, funcionamiento y jurisdicción del Federal Bureau of Investigation, de los Estados Unidos de América, institución que el pueblo de este país respeta y que el mundo admira.

La Agencia Federal de Investigaciones es respetada por el pueblo estadounidense porque en ella ve una organización científica puesta al servicio de la justicia y de la seguridad de los asociados y de la República. El ciudadano honrado sabe que nada tiene que temer del F. B. I. y que, en cambio, mucho tiene que agradecerle por su celo en beneficio de la tranquilidad social, de la vigencia de la paz nacional y del orden en todas sus manifestaciones.

En el mundo es admirada esta institución conocida universalmente por las iniciales de F. B. I. (Federal Bureau of Investigation) porque los científicos de la investigación de todos los países avanzados reconocen que el F. B. I. funciona con extraordinaria precisión, y con alto sentido de responsabilidad.

Hay satisfactorio tiempo que ser para el eminente estadounidense, señor John Edgar Hoover, ser fundador y primer Director de esta prestigiosa Agencia Federal de Investigaciones, tal como ahora funciona, al frente de la cual se encuentra todavía, Agencia que es acreedora, por su eficiencia y honorabilidad, al respeto y simpatía del pueblo de los Estados Unidos y a la admiración de todo el mundo.

EL FBI Y SU JURISDICCION

ORIGEN DEL F.B.I.

La historia de la Oficina Federal de Investigaciones, -- F.B.I. -- remonta al año 1895, en que el entonces Procurador General, Charles J. Bonaparte, dictaminó que las investigaciones del Departamento de Justicia fuesen llevadas a cabo por un pequeño grupo de investigadores especiales. Este primer cuerpo oficial del F.B.I., conocido entonces como Oficina de Investigaciones, se componía de nueve agentes secretos, empleados del Departamento de Hacienda, más otros veinte y cinco investigadores.

La organización fue creciendo gradualmente en los años sucesivos. La aprobación en 1916 de la Ley de Trata de Blancas, conocida por "Mann Act", hizo que se extendiera la jurisdicción de esta Agencia Federal para encargarse de los crímenes interestatales. Asimismo se aumentaron aún más sus responsabilidades al aprobarse la Ley del Servicio Selectivo durante la Primera Guerra Mundial; la Ley de Espionaje del 19 de junio de 1917, la cual dio poderes al F.B.I. para investigar las actividades de espionaje a fin de impedir se llevaran a cabo los planes de agentes extranjeros comprometidos en destruir la seguridad de la Nación; y la Ley de Sabotaje del 20 de abril de 1918, la cual dispone que sea castigada la destrucción o daños maliciosos a la propiedad, sea cual fuere la importancia de la misma para la defensa nacional. En 1919 el Congreso de los Estados Unidos aprobó la Ley de Robo de Vehículos (ahora conocida como Ley de Transporte Interestatal de Vehículos Robados) con el fin de castigar el traslado de automóviles de un estado a otro, añadiéndose con esta ley mayores responsabilidades al F. B. I.

En sus comienzos, la Oficina de Investigaciones era una agencia descoordinada y dirigida más bien sin grandes restricciones o disciplina. Las oficinas de Washington ejercían muy poco control sobre los agentes regionales y no existían normas fijas de adiestramiento o sobre conducta personal a observarse.

En 1924, el ya fallecido Juez de la Corte Suprema, Marlan Fiske Stone, quien entonces servía como Procurador General, nombró al señor J. Edgar Hoover, de 29 años de edad, al cargo de director de la Oficina Federal de Investigaciones.

I am enclosing a clipping from the New York Times book review of March 10 with reference to Theodore Draper's book on communism. Mickey and I have discussed on several occasions over the past several years the need for an authoritative, scholarly work on communism, and with the advent of Draper's book, financed by the Fund for the Republic, it seems to me it is imperative that a book be published by an authority in whom the American public can have confidence.

I was very sorry to have missed the dinner last week. However, I was not feeling up to it that particular evening.

With best personal regards, I am

Sincerely yours,

Stanley

Which Way for Germany?

A WATCHER ON THE RHINE: An Appraisal of Germany Today. By Brian Connell, 320 pp. New York: William Morrow & Co. $4.

By THEODORE H. WHITE

BRIAN CONNELL'S "A Watcher on the Rhine" is a quick—but none the less serious—study of that nightmare subject of Western politics: the strange people of Germany and the curious government they established in the ruins of post-war Europe. To this study, Brian Connell, a British journalist, brings unusual intelligence, a gay style and a tortured perplexity of emotions.

Mr. Connell is animated, on the one hand, by a quite total dislike of Germans as people. Of them, as a group, he says: "They are either stone-cold sober or roaring drunk, their silent moments either suffused with melancholy or indicative of frustrated fury." As individuals, he records, "I have yet to see a man give up his place in a bus or tram to an older woman, or a simple gesture of assistance to elderly people humping luggage across a railway station." Of their historic personality he writes, "It is not the inert heaviness of lead, but the menacing quiescence of neat sulphuric acid. Confined in a glass carboy it is harmless, but once released uncontrolled, it burns and ravages everything in its path."

Mr. White is the author of "Fire in the Ashes," a book about Europe at mid-century. He received the Overseas Press Club award last year for his reporting from Germany.

On the other hand, Mr. Connell discharges the responsibility of an honest reporter who records—as all men must who write of post-war Germany—that these same Germans have established and maintained since the war one of the most enlightened governments of their long history, that they have ordered their internal affairs with fundamental fairness and great courage, that they seem genuinely unwilling at the moment to risk the fruits of their labor and effort on the same mad adventures which all through this century have wet us with tears and blood.

The contrast of this eminently decent post-war German record with the earlier monstrous furies, is treated by Mr. Connell without any major attempt at punditry but simply with a sharp, factual observer's story of the years since 1945. Much of the reporting is old and familiar—as, for example, the oft-told story of German recovery,

Obligation

THE unpleasant fact is that the Western world finds itself under the moral obligation of keeping Germany prosperous . . . We have to take the calculated risk of giving this turbulent and unbalanced nation an opportunity of finding equilibrium. It will be a long and touchy process, but the plain fact is that we have no other choice.—"A Watcher on the Rhine."

of German ruins, of the Ruhr baronage, of the deceptive tranquillity of Bonn.

There are fine, long stretches of entirely fresh research and investigation and a host of other valuable contributions such as his portraits of such repulsive characters as Mr. Pieck and Red Hilda Benjamin of Communist East Germany; his detailed and powerful narrative of the Russian effort to establish contact with the old Wehrmacht aristocracy and the menace hidden therein; his dft profile of Konrad Adenauer, the best yet; and his notes on Reinhard Gehlen, chief of German anti-Russian intelligence and, since the war, the favorite of American undercover agencies.

WHAT Mr. Connell's book lacks is perhaps too much to ask of any book that takes Germany seriously; the quality of compassion. For what has happened in Germany in the last fifty years has been a wrenching and rending and tearing apart of every gentle relationship. The well-born have been humbled, the genteel have been made poor, the poor homeless, and no one for a generation has felt able to rely with certainty on the trust, stability or confidence of anyone else. Out of the chronic turbulence of Germany has come this compulsive German desire for security, for strength, for certainty. Hitler gave it to the Germans to their destruction and our sorrow. In the post-war era this stability and strength have been provided by Adenauer's personality, principally, and, behind him, by the strength, purposes and aims of American diplomacy.

Twelve years after the first war—in 1930—the Ruhr barons had already begun to pay Hitler for his assault on the Versailles Treaty. Twelve years after the second—which is now—a prosperous Germany seems profoundly urged from within into a new European Union. Since diplomacy cannot keep a strong people forever on a delinquency probation, our policy-makers must act on the basis of the evidence, which presently weights hope more than fear.

Although Mr. Connell says none of this, it is the touchstone of his fine reporting that, while fear outweighs hope in his consideration of Germany, he scrupulously presents the evidence for both hope and fear.

On the Party Line

THE ROOTS OF AMERICAN COMMUNISM. By Theodore Draper. Illustrated, 498 pp. New York: The Viking Press. $6.75.

By ARTHUR M. SCHLESINGER Jr.

IT speaks poorly for our nation that we have been in a major furor about domestic communism for a decade (and in a spasmodic minor furor since 1919) without at any point producing a sober, responsible, professional history of the American Communist party. The Communists themselves have contributed various works of piety, all of which bear only a coincidental relationship to the facts; there have been non-Communist accounts, some more reliable than others, of specific aspects of the American movement; and Congressional investigations, autobiographical reminiscences and the like have disclosed fragments of the story. But not until Theodore Draper's admirable new book, "The Roots of American Communism," the first of a multi-volume history of the American party, have we had a systematic effort to weave all aspects—doctrinal, organizational, personal—into a coherent critical narrative.

Mr. Draper, whose work is part of the Study of Communist Influence in American Life sponsored by the Fund for the Republic, has done a careful and exhaustive job. He has read the public records in the field. He has unearthed obscure and forgotten publications. He has held long interviews with such former Communist leaders as Earl Browder, Jay Lovestone, James P. Cannon, Bertram D. Wolfe and Max Bedacht. He has unraveled the knotted threads of factionalism in the movement with exemplary patience. And he has presented the story with clarity, insight and objectivity. His own one-time participation in the Communist movement has not in his case, as in so many others, destroyed his capacity for historical discrimination, while at the same time it obviously gives him in many areas a special feel and expertness.

THE present volume covers the period from the first impact of the Russian Revolution on the American Left to the emergence of a united and open Communist party. In effect it is the tale of the corruption of a part of the American Left by the mixture of dream and power embodied in the Soviet Union. Mr. Draper shows how the Bolshevik revolution came to a portion of what he calls "the historic Left" in the United States as a fulfillment of ancient hopes. He then describes how the resulting political formations were transferred from authentic expressions of American radicalism into "the American appendage of a Russian revolutionary power"—a process completed when Moscow reorganized the American party in 1923.

Many of the events of this period have a comic aspect—the plurality of parties competing for the Communist name and for Moscow approval; the fantasies of revolutionary clandestinity; the agents of the Department of Justice, outrevolutionizing the revolution in their zeal to justify their assignments; the warfare waged by rival Communist factions against each other, far more vicious than that waged by either against the existing order. Mr. Draper is well aware how much of all this was make-believe; but he explores the largely uncharted sectarian wilderness with good humor and emerges with as good a picture of the American Communist world in its infancy as we are ever likely to have.

One of his special contributions is the new light he throws upon the role of Louis C. Fraina, better known to a later generation as Lewis Corey. Fraina emerges from Mr. Draper's account as perhaps the most influential figure in the first period of American communism. Mr. Draper does not quite render wholly comprehensible the reasons for Fraina's abrupt downfall as a Communist leader, but he does clear up the slanderous stories the Communists spread about him; and he relates with sympathy Fraina's reappearance as Lewis Corey and his later career as a Marxist and then as a liberal.

AGAINST Fraina Mr. Draper poses the other dominating personality in the first days of American communism—John Reed. He draws a vivid picture of Reed and contributes a careful analysis of the vexed question of Reed's alleged disillusionment with the Soviet Union. This use of personal sketches as a means of getting at larger issues increases the readability of Mr. Draper's book and enlarges one's understanding of the human dimensions of American communism.

By 1923, it becomes evident, American communism was finished as a native movement. Its future would thereafter hang upon the fortunes of the Soviet Union. When, in the age of capitalist breakdown in the early Thirties, only the Soviet Union claimed to be solving the economic problem and only the Soviet Union claimed to be offering resolute opposition to fascism, then the American Communist party had great opportunity. And commanded the loyal, dedicated people nurtured in the traditions of radicalism.

Mr. Draper's next study the transfusion of this sect of fanatics into tensive conservatism.

In Pursuit of Beauty

A SWINGER OF BIRCHES: A Portrait of Robert Frost. By Sidney Cox, with an introduction by Robert Frost. New York: New York University Press. $3.75.

By RANDALL JARRELL

THIS is an old friend's portrait of Robert Frost. The portrait's content is quotations, paraphrases, anecdotes, praise: its form is a guided tour, a trudging from beauty to beauty. Frost says, "Lyrics ought to be dramatic. A poem ought to be something going on"—and so ought such a book as this.

Frost's introduction (to a book he's "just stolen a look" over the edge of) speaks of his dead friend Sidney Cox with affection, calls him "a great teacher," but he cannot resist remembering how "very teasingly young" Cox was at their first meeting: "It wasn't the last time he had to make allowances for me. He worked at it devotedly. . . . He seemed worried at first lest it should appear I didn't seek him as much as he sought me. He respected me very highly. And he was more serious about such things than I." Cox knew this; he tells you, soberly, himself unfeigned, that Frost "thought of poetry—and behaved, sometimes, as if he thought of life—as a prank"; and he quotes Frost about "play for mortal stakes," but doesn't mention his last awing word on play, "Directive."

It is satisfying to be given so many of the metaphors, prejudices, and discoveries of the best poet alive. Different readers will like different things; I particularly like what Frost says about the need for "doubletiness" for "form that falsifies no ambiguities." On meeting and providing for ambiguities, he says, depend charm, integrity and worth. He says: "We shall be judged finally by the delicacy of our feeling of when to stop short A little of anything goes a long way in art." This is as true and troubling as von Hofmannsthal's: "Good taste is the ability continuously to counteract exaggeration"; both are sayings that an age of excess will immediately repress.

Frost says, arrestingly, that he has "almost never experienced ecstasy"; Cox remembers his telling students that the aesthetic range "is from exquisite beauty through elegant beauty, homely beauty, rough beauty, terrible beauty, mean beauty, to, vile beauty. He had never been able to go on to vile beauty," he said. He knew his limits. After trying to fit in "The Subverted Flower" and "The Pauper Witch of Grafton," I have wondered whether Frost's limits know him as well as he knows them. "Eyes seeking the response of eyes. Bring out the stars, bring out the flowers" is his version of Freud's "Without love, there is no understanding"; but he also says about people, "Damn them, damn them, all . . . but we must forget that." "You have to live by shedding" is his account of the river of Lethe on whose banks we live.

Yet he has made it impossible for us ever to get rid of some of those "actual experiences" upon which he says, each of his poems is based. Because of Frost's little boy, "his cheek smeared with apple-sand," is an actual experience of our own, actual enough for us not to be afraid of his last demand on us: "How do I know whether a man has come close to Keats in reading Keats? The closeness—everything depends on the closeness."

A poet and critic, Mr. Jarrell is author of "Selected Poems" and "Poetry and the Age."

Writers Who Passed By

BACKGROUND WITH CHORUS. By Frank Swinnerton. 236 pp. New York: Farrar, Straus & Cudahy. $3.75.

By WALTER ALLEN

FRANK SWINNERTON describes his new book as "a footnote to changes in English literary fashion between 1900 and 1917." His models are the great anecdotalists, Boswell, Hazlitt, Haydon, Crabbe Robinson. He has written, not literary history, but a book to which future literary historians and biographers of the period will turn with gratitude. And who is better qualified to do so? Swinnerton is now 72; as publisher's reader and editor, novelist and journalist, he has been round and about literary London for as long as the century itself, for he started his first job on Jan. 14, 1901.

It was as office boy to the publisher J. M. Dent, the founder of Everyman's Library. He "dealt with every caller entering the large showroom where I lived spider-like in a glass-

"windowed sentry-box." From that vantage point, in 1901, he saw and talked with H. G. Wells for the first time and, a few years later, had his first encounter with Chesterton, who drove up to the office one evening after it was closed, with a bundle of manuscript which contained his introduction to the Everyman "David Copperfield" or "Martin Chuzzlewit."

"While, because I could not pay cash for it, he refused to leave his manuscript . . . his manner was the reverse of harsh. It was that of one who thought he and I were engaged in an 'unfortunate but risible non-transaction,' and was both friendly and amusing. I suspect that having worked in two publishing offices and for a number of 'unremunerative' papers he had developed a preference for ready-money transactions; but in this he did injustice to Dent's probity, which—though not his generosity—was model."

So Frank Swinnerton composes his picture of British literary life from 1900 to 1917; but not simply through his memories of the writers we mainly remember today. The smaller men, forgotten now, but important in their time, the magazine editors, the reviewers and the critics, who made the literary opinion of the age, are also there, and some of the best pages in the book are about them, men like Edmund Gosse, Clement K. Shorter and the scholars Churton Collins and W. P. Ker.

AN example of such Swinnerton sketches is the assessment of Andrew Lang, best known as a translator and as a compiler of fairy tales: "I hate cruelty," said Lang; and of the contents of his many-hued fairy books, "I never put a wicked stepmother in a barrel and send her tobogganing down a hill." . . . Lang once said he thought he could have been a great anthropologist. My belief is that he had not quite the courage to be great in anything. He had fancy, but not imagination."

And of the poet and scholar Austin Dobson: "He wasted not a syllable in anything he wrote; but crept like a wren in the thicket of contemporary allusions, afterward making their meaning clear to the least informed. Similarly he crept into the Dent showroom, not timidly, but because he was altogether a quiet and unobtrusive person. . . . You could not imagine Dobson angry, or inspired, or impatient; he seemed born for tranquillity. That is what one would imagine, also, from the unambitious restraint of both his poetry, which Browning likened to carved cherry stones, and his prose, which Dobson himself described as resulting from 'constant application to limited areas.'

It is through the minor and now often minuscule figures that Swinnerton most successfully brings his period to life, no doubt because the bigger men he deals with, from James to D. H. Lawrence, are familiar to us through scores of other men's books and articles as well as their own writings. But as ever he is excellent on his two great friends and heroes, Arnold Bennett and H. G. Wells; and he writes all the time with a demureness that is a most effective foil to a sharpness of perception that goes hand in hand with an engaging modesty.

Dear Stanley:

It was very kind of you to call to my attention "The New York Times" book review of March 10, 1957, referring to the new book, "The Roots of American Communism." I have not had a chance to look at the book as yet, although I have noted some of the reviews.

I share the view which ~~Mr. Tracy~~ and you have advanced. There is a need for an authoritative treatment on this subject, and perhaps some day this might be propitious. Certainly, it is something that I have had in mind for a long time.

I was sorry you could not be present at the dinner. Both Clyde and I were sorry you were not feeling up to par.

Sincerely,

BACKGROUND:

Stanley Tracy, former Assistant Director, called and advised that at 2:30 p. m. he would like to bring to the Bureau for a tour Dean Coffman of the University of California Law School, their Chief Consultant, Samuel Lieberman, their Chief Counsel, and [redacted] of Lafayette University, who is their Research Director. Tracy advised he and former Assistant Director Ladd would accompany these gentlemen on a tour. Tracy further advised that he would appreciate it if the Director would shake hands with these men if convenient. All three work with Tracy and Ladd on the Committee on Government Security.

INFORMATION IN BUREAU FILES:Lynn Dale Coffman:

We did Special Inquiry type investigation concerning Coffman in late 1955 and early 1956. Investigation reflected he was born in 1905 in Iowa. He received his education at the University of Iowa. He practiced and taught law and has been Dean of the Law School, University of California, Los Angeles, since March, 1949. Investigation reflected he had difficulty getting along with individuals under his supervision, showed favoritism and could be extremely harsh. He was described as egotistical and having a poor personality. He was further described as an opportunist.

came in to see me on the afternoon of May 22. I had not seen him for a year or so. He had been attending the meeting at the Commission on Government Security as a member of the Advisory Committee. He told me he had been rather interested in attending the sessions. He stated he had been very favorably impressed with the manner in which Mickey Ladd had handled himself. He stated Mickey had presented to the group the work of the DC Commission and their findings. His presentation was excellent. He had an understanding of all ramifications of the problem. He had the answer at his fingertips, whereas others, including Loyd Wright, tended to pontificate DC. On the whole, he thought the Commission's recommendations were sound and would be supported with two or three exceptions. The one which made the biggest impression on him was a recommendation by the Commission that, whenever a foreign country refuses to accept its nationals deported from the United States, then the borders of this country should be closed to all visitors of such a country. He stated some very sound people felt this would do more harm than good and he was inclined to go along with them.

I inquired whether there was much evidence of controversy. He stated there was some honest objection but he could not say a real controversy developed.

He was very high in his praise of Mr. Ladd and pointed out that the Commission was fortunate indeed to have Mickey Ladd handling the staff. He thought the Bureau was very smart in getting both Mickey and Tracy on the Commission staff. I told him we had not done this; that, as a matter of fact, both Mickey and Tracy had retired and we had declined to make any recommendations to the Commission although the chairman had requested such recommendations.

It will be recalled that under date of July 3, 1957, the Los Angeles Office advised the Bureau that at Harvard University, was now on the payroll of the National Committee to Secure Justice for Morton Sobel, and had made a statement before the Los Angeles Sobel Committee to the effect that he had recently visited Brigham Young University and two professors had combined their classes and turned the session over to to tell about the Sobel case. Stanley Tracy called this to the attention of Mr. Ernest Wilkinson, President of Brigham Young University, and Mr. Wilkinson subsequently sent Mr. Tracy a letter indicating that he had been unable to ascertain that had lectured at the university.

Mr. Tracy called me this morning, advising me that Mr. Wilkinson had been in town over the week end and that he was very apologetic as to his earlier letter indicating that had not appeared at the university, inasmuch as shortly prior to his coming to Washington he had ascertained that, in fact, the information we previously had is absolutely correct, that did address the combined classes of two Brigham Young University professors. This fact was unknown to Mr. Wilkinson or his immediate staff at the time it occurred. According to Tracy, Mr. Wilkinson is extremely "burned up" about the matter. He has issued specific instructions that there will be no more outside lecturers appearing at the university without his specific approval. He has also ascertained the identity of the guilty professors, and will take definite administrative action against them upon his return to Utah.

Mr. Jack Anderson
The Washington Merry-Go-Round
1313 - 29th Street NW
Washington 7, D C

Dear Jack:

I read the August 20, 1957 column of Mr. Pearson, as it appeared in the Washington Post and Times Herald newspaper. In this column very damaging remarks are made concerning Mr. J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. As you personally know, prior to my retirement from the Federal service in 1954, I was an Assistant Director of the FBI for over 12 years and prior to that was in charge of Mr. Hoover's personal office for 7 years. I feel some responsibility therefore, to give you a few facts which I hope will set the record straight.

The column referred to begins by stating that J. Edgar Hoover has been putting the heat on both houses of Congress to pass the Bill to reverse the Supreme Court in the Jancks case. It continues that, "This is the second time Hoover has stepped out of his nonpolitical role... the previous time having been his public political appearance with Attorney General Brownell to smear ex-President Truman in the Harry Dexter White case."

Mr. Pearson's use of the word "smear" is particularly uncalled for and unjustified by the facts of the situation. I would, in fact, be far more justified in claiming that Mr. Pearson is smearing Mr. Hoover. Consider these facts:

On November 17, 1953, Mr. Hoover appeared before the Senate Subcommittee to Investigate the Administration of the Internal Security Act and other Internal Security Laws of the Committee on the Judiciary. In explaining the reason why Mr. Hoover was called to appear, Chairman Jenner stated:

".....we have requested Mr. Hoover to be here. We have made this request to the Attorney General....."

Certainly this language indicates Mr. Hoover's presence was necessitated by circumstances beyond his or the FBI's control. Further a reading of the hearings will disclose that Mr. Hoover gave only factual testimony which was entirely devoid of malice toward anyone.

ENCLOSURE

In addition to the printed hearings, another document is of interest and pertinent, Don Whitehead's recent book, "The FBI Story." Remember that Mr. Whitehead had access to original documents and he quoted from the documents, not from some faceless "close friends" of Mr. Hoover, which apparently comprises Mr. Pearson's documentation. Mr. Whitehead said in his book (see pages 290-291):

"Hoover's extraordinary appearance before the Senate group came about in this fashion: On November 6, 1953, Attorney General Herbert Brownell, Jr., told the Executives Club of Chicago that Harry S. Truman had appointed White to the International Monetary Fund despite two FBI reports which had described White's spying activities."

"Brownell's speech created a political uproar. The Senate Internal Security Subcommittee began calling upon Hoover to testify. He refused twice."

"Soon stories began to appear in the newspapers suggesting that President Truman had made this move so that 'White could be better kept under surveillance in his job' by the FBI. The New York Times on November 14, 1953, headlined a story by Arthur Krock: 'Aides Say Truman Appointed White with F.B.I. Consent.' The story was attributed to 'persons who were in a position to know' and said that 'According to their account, J. Edgar Hoover suggested or at least agreed to the procedure recommended to and followed by President Truman.'"

"Other stories reported that White's transfer from the Treasury to the International Monetary Fund had been made with Hoover's approval in a conference attended by Hoover, W. C. Clegg (then Attorney General) and Fred Vinson (Then Secretary of the Treasury). After these stories appeared, Chief Counsel Robert Morris of the Internal Security Subcommittee notified the FBI that a formal request would be made for Hoover to testify. Morris was told he would have to take the matter up with the Attorney General."

"The Subcommittee's formal request was then made to the Department of Justice and Attorney General Brownell told Hoover on November 16 that it would be proper for him to testify. Hoover in recalling the incident said: 'I agreed to testify on the third request because I wished to avoid a subpoena and because the story which was going around reflected on me and the FBI.'"

Mr. Whitehead further states, "In all the tumult at no time did former President Truman make the statement that Hoover had been a party to the agreement." Also Mr. Whitehead quotes from an article in the New York Times concerning Mr. Hoover's testimony which says, in part, "Mr. Hoover....was almost forced to testify....."

Your associate continues in his August 20 column, saying, "During the war Hoover had placed agents with every American embassy abroad." This statement is absolutely not true. Mr. Pearson attributes this statement to "close friends" of Mr. Hoover's - using the language - "As explained by his close friends...." Mr. Pearson does not identify these "close friends" and I am unable to even guess the extent of their knowledge. But regardless of Mr. Pearson's faceless informers, Mr. Pearson himself should have known this statement was not true. Here, however, is what actually happened:

In recognition of the dire threat posed by Nazi infiltration of South America and the danger of subversive activities being conducted there, Assistant Secretary of State Adolf A. Berle, Jr., called upon the late President Roosevelt for the President's views concerning the investigation of these activities. Mr. Berle on June 24, 1940, advised that the President desired the FBI to be responsible for foreign intelligence work in the western hemisphere on the request of the State Department. Therefore, a Special Intelligence Service (SIS) was immediately created under the control of the FBI and continued its operation until 1947 when its activities were absorbed by the newly created Central Intelligence Group (CIG).

The FBI's foreign intelligence activities were carried on under the SIS program and agents were not placed in every embassy abroad.

Mr. Pearson was kind enough to report that the FBI had done a good job. Mr. Berle also thought so, for in 1946 he wrote Mr. Hoover saying, "You are a better judge than I as to whether the time has come to tell the story of the western hemisphere operation. Told or not, it is the story of a great piece of work. I do not think a similar operation has ever been carried on; and I can personally attest to the brilliance of its results."

You might be interested in some additional background. In January 1946, President Truman issued a directive which created a National Intelligence Authority and a Central Intelligence Group. At a meeting of the Central Planning Staff of the CIG in April 1946, a proposed draft of a report to members of the Intelligence Advisory Board was presented. In this report it was recommended that the FBI assume jurisdiction for all subversive intelligence on a world-wide basis. In May 1946 Mr. Hoover forwarded a memorandum to the Attorney General expressing his objection to the assumption of this responsibility and stating that if the President and the Attorney General agreed that the FBI should not assume this responsibility, then existing SIS activities in the western hemisphere would be continued until such time as a new intelligence agency was prepared to assume coverage in the western hemisphere.

At no time did the FBI contact the President for the purpose of obtaining the authority subsequently given to the Central Intelligence Agency. Mr. D. Milton Ladd, former Assistant to the Director and in charge of all investigative and intelligence activities for the FBI, attended the Central Planning Staff (CIG) meetings and Mr. Ladd advises me that the FBI did not contact the President for this purpose. Mr. Pearson's statement, therefore, that, "Hoover went to the White House to plead that CIA be put under him," is not the truth. I was an official of the FBI at the time and, consonant with Mr. Hoover's policy to keep FBI officials advised of all major developments, had Mr. Hoover gone to the White House for the purpose stated by Mr. Pearson I am certain I would have known about it. As a matter of fact I felt personally that the FBI should have continued to handle intelligence in the Western Hemisphere and so expressed myself to Mr. Hoover. He advised me that the FBI's job was to do as it was told by the President and the Congress. I also expressed my personal views to General Harry Vaughan, who resided in my neighborhood. General Vaughan told me that President Truman felt that the FBI more properly belonged in the domestic field.

Your associate continues in his column with the statement, "On top of this, Hoover wanted to take over the Secret Service and its job of guarding the President. This was encouraged by Mr. Truman's close friend, Gen. Harry Vaughan."

I have no knowledge of General Vaughan's views or activities in this connection, however, I do know that Mr. Hoover in my more than 20 years with him, never expressed in my presence any such desire. Mr. Hoover had the highest regard for the Secret Service and rendered every possible assistance to that agency but to my knowledge he never tried to take it, or any other agency, over. I have heard him say on many occasions that the investigative agencies of the Federal government should never be combined because in a democracy you need checks and balances to avoid creating a National Police.

Your associate continues that, "Hoover had assigned a special agent to Vaughan's office and investigated certain people Vaughan wanted investigated, which in some cases was playing politics - Democratic politics." The facts are that Mr. Hoover did not play politics at General Vaughan's direction. A special agent did deliver correspondence to General Vaughan on a regular liason basis as with other agencies but by no stretch of the imagination could this be an assignment such as described by Mr. Pearson.

The next statement by your associate is, "General Vaughan in turn did his best to persuade Mr. Truman to use the FBI instead of the Secret Service, and J. Edgar Hoover even got the House Appropriations Committee to earmark $25,000 for the FBI to protect the President." It would be quite reasonable, I believe, to assume from this statement Mr. Pearson meant that Mr. Hoover did something new while General Vaughan was at the White House. If Mr. Pearson had checked this he would have learned that for over 30 years, legislation authorizing salaries and expenses for the FBI has contained provisions for "protection of the person of the President of the United States." This authorization in the appropriation acts permits the FBI to render assistance to the Secret Service from time to time as requested by that agency. Mr. Pearson furthermore failed to check Title 18, Section 3056, U.S. Code annotated, which reads:

"Subject to the Direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, the United States Secret Service, Treasury Department, is authorized to protect the person of the President of the United States and members of his immediate family, the President-elect, and the Vice President at his request."

It should be obvious that only the Congress can divest the Secret Service of its responsibility in this regard. I therefore find it difficult to place any credence in another statement of your associate that, "At Mr. Truman's request, Berkley blocked the FBI appropriation."

Another paragraph of Mr. Pearson's column reads: "After these two rebuffs, Hoover developed a cold hatred for Mr. Truman. From that time on, he never set set foot inside Mr. Truman's office."

It is obvious that Mr. Pearson did not check this matter out, for if he had he would have ascertained the truth. As a matter of fact, as late as December 1, 1952, Mr. Hoover attended ceremonies at the White House at which President Truman presented the Distinguished Service Medal to Admiral Sidney W. Souers. On this occasion, persons nearby had the opportunity to observe that following the ceremonies, President Truman thanked Mr. Hoover for the assistance which the FBI and Mr. Hoover had been to him during his administration. Further, President Truman in a speech on September 28, 1948, delivered at the Oklahoma State Fair Grounds, said, "The F.B.I., the greatest counter espionage organization in the world, headed by J. Edgar Hoover, is alert, vigorous, and skillful. It is watching the Communists closely, and systematically protecting our external security."

In 1950, before the Federal Bar Association in Washington and again in 1952 before the National Conference on Citizenship, in Washington, former President Truman made favorable remarks concerning the FBI. I mention these items because I know of my own personal knowledge that Mr. Hoover liked and respected Mr. Truman and the evidence is that this feeling was mutual.

These are some of the principal facts which Mr. Pearson should have considered before he wrote his column of August 20. For your information I checked each of them with Mr. D. Milton Ladd and he agrees fully. Mr. Ladd, who now resides in Florida, was an Assistant Director of the FBI from 1939 to 1949 and an Assistant to the Director from 1949 until his retirement in 1954. He was intimately familiar with matters affecting the FBI during the Truman administration and agrees with the content of this letter to you.

Please give my best personal regards to your charming wife and family. I recall what a splendid employee she was when she worked for me at the FBI.

I regret this letter is so long however I felt that you would appreciate receiving the information it contains.

Sincerely

Stanley J. ~~Tracy~~

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Thank you for your letters of October 22 containing invitations to attend the Retraining Session banquet of the National Academy on November 6 and the graduation exercises of the Academy on November 8.

Margaret and I are leaving for Miami Beach, Florida early on November 1. We are to meet my sister and brother-in-law from Salt Lake City on November 5 at the Dental convention in Miami. After a week there we are going on to Key West and up the Gulf coast, then to Geneva to visit with the Ladd's. We do not expect to return to Washington before December. Never having seen much of Florida we want to tour the entire State and find out for ourselves if what they say about Florida is true.

If we were not going to meet relatives on an agreed date we would postpone our trip in order to accept the invitations.

Thank you for inviting us. Margaret joins me in sincere regrets over our inability to accept under the circumstances.

With best personal regards,

Sincerely

Lloyd Wright was the main speaker at the Annual Banquet of the American Society for Industrial Security at the Mayflower Hotel, Washington, D. C., on the evening of October 30, 1957. His address (attached), "Securing America's Productive Strength," in effect was a description of certain aspects of the work of the Commission on Government Security, particularly as it related to industrial security, and a plea for members of the Society to put pressure on Congress to see that the recommendations of the Commission were accepted. At the end of his talk, Mr. Wright departed from the script and forcefully declared that the menace of world communism and Soviet Russia has increased, rather than decreased, and that the American people had better wake up to this.

Subsequent to the banquet, I chatted with Mr. Wright. He commented that anyone who took Attorney General Brownell's place would be in for tough sledding for the next three years and that while he liked Bill Rogers, he was, in effect, a boy trying to do a man's job and would be under a real disadvantage as he will have lost the head of his Criminal Division and the head of his Internal Security Division. Wright felt there was a need for a strong, mature man to head the Department of Justice; a man who could go out to the various parts of the country and insist on securing highly competent attorneys to head the various United States Attorneys' offices, if necessary, on a sacrifice basis as public-spirited citizens.

Wright apparently has respect and regard for the Bureau, although he did say, in passing, that during the work of the Commission, while Director Hoover and General Swing apparently agreed with the work of the Commission, they did not afford him the assistance which he would have liked.

Re: Loyd Wright
Commission on Government Security

Mr. Wright was very outspoken concerning the need to preserve security. While he was chatting with Colonel Rubenstein, of the Air Force, Stanley Tracy and me, he got into a discussion with Rubenstein on the Pearson leaks, apparently referring to the public statements he (Wright) had made to the Moss Committee and the suit which Pearson has instituted against him. He arranged with Rubenstein for a meeting with Secretary of Defense McElroy next week, in order to get the Department of Defense back of him, as he intends to take a strong stand, publicly testifying before a Senate Judiciary Committee if necessary. Mr. Tracy mentioned to me later that the Attorney General had made available to Loyd Wright, Justice Department files showing details of Department of Defense investigation of leaks by Pearson and that these files showed the Department had been prepared to go ahead with Grand Jury action against Pearson, but apparently the Attorney General backed down. Tracy said Wright is taking the position that he will publicly testify concerning these matters and will dare the Department to do something about it, on the basis that if they wouldn't prosecute Pearson, they can't prosecute him either.

Substitute Justices Urged for High Court

By JAY G. HAYDEN
North American Newspaper Alliance

While the American Bar Association has declared against the pending Jenner Bill, which proposes to curtail the Supreme Court's power to override congressional and State authority, it has also come up with a suggestion of its own which very well may attract strong support.

This plan, which the ABA approved in principle at its current Atlanta meeting, would require full nine-member participation in decisions of all cases. This would be attained by creation of a panel of judges drawn from among the 67 members of the 11 United States Circuit Courts of Appeal. They would be called up for temporary service on the Supreme Court as needed.

Whenever the Supreme Court was shorthanded, or when sitting judges remove themselves from consideration of a case because of personal disqualifications, the court could summon one or more substitutes to fill the bench for a particular lawsuit.

The Bar Association agreed wholly with the disadvantage of a system by which any judge can withdraw himself, with the effect of causing the Supreme Court to render some of its most important decisions with less than the minimum five-member majority voting either way.

Legal Study Set

But the association appointed a committee to study the legal possibility of bringing in substitutes. The Constitution requires all members of the Supreme Court to be appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate, and the same principle applies to all other Federal judges.

The question is whether a lower court judge could be advanced temporarily to the Supreme Court by legislative enactment and, if not, just how such a transfer could be attained legally. It could be done, of course, by constitutional amendment.

A recent striking illustration of the effect of an undermanned court was the 4-2 finding last June that Edwards v. South Carolina was in violation of the anti-trust law because of its 23 per cent holding of stock in the General Motors Corp.

Two Disqualify Selves
In that case two justices disqualified themselves, Tom Clark because he had launched the anti-trust action in question as Attorney General under President Truman and John Marshall Harlan because he had been an attorney for the DuPonts. Associate Justice Whittaker could not vote because he arrived in the court too late to listen to arguments in the case.

The crucial point is that any Supreme Court decision by less than overall majority inevitably continues the lawsuit unabated until at least five judges of the high court can be assembled on the same side.

The DuPont indictment for criminal disobedience of the anti-trust law occurred in 1949. It was late in 1954 when United States District Judge Walter J. Labuy of Chicago delivered the first decision in the case, exonerating the DuPonts. Eight years had elapsed before the Supreme Court acted on the case, and then it actually settled nothing.

Negotiations Still On

For nine months since then Judge Labuy has been negotiating for a consent decree but with everybody knowing that neither side will yield without carrying the case back to the Supreme Court. Probably it will be two years more before the issue again reaches the Supreme Court, and then conceivably with a short attendance on the bench.

The high point of Supreme Court short-handedness may have been in 1946 when, with Associate Justice Jackson away conducting the Nuremberg post-war trials, Chief Justice Stone died suddenly.

Even before Justice Stone's death, 15 cases had been set for reargument because the available judges divided four to four.

JENNER BILL SEEN THREAT TO COURT

Editorial Writer, Hailed by Liberties Union, Warns of Crippling High Tribunal

By MURRAY ILLSON

A warning of attempts to "cripple" the Supreme Court and to "erect spite walls" around it was sounded yesterday at the annual conference of the New York Civil Liberties Union.

The warning was given by Irving Dilliard, editorial writer of The St. Louis Post-Dispatch, after he had received the Florina Lasker Civil Liberties Award of $1,000 for outstanding work in the field of civil liberties.

Mr. Dilliard told the conference's luncheon session that Senate Bill 2646, submitted by Senator William E. Jenner, Republican of Indiana, was intended to "cripple the Supreme Court" because of recent rulings favoring civil liberties.

Vindictiveness Charged

Speaking in the Roosevelt Hotel, Mr. Dilliard declared that the Jenner bill "would have Congress vindictively retaliate against the Supreme Court for some eight civil liberties decisions."

He said that the proposed legislation would bar the court "from appellate jurisdiction in five important fields, such as Congressional investigations and Government employment in loyalty investigations."

He said the bill also would "block the Supreme Court out in cases involving teachers and lawyers caught in the same net." Mr. Dilliard continued:

"The proponents of the Jenner bill and the many other pending attacks on the Supreme Court would have the American people believe that our high bench today is packed with irresponsible jurists of one reckless mind. Actually the nine jurists who make up our Supreme Court now are probably more representative than members of any other high court bench."

Mr. Dilliard noted that of the present Supreme Court justices four owed their commissions to President Eisenhower, three to President Franklin D. Roosevelt and two to President Harry S. Truman. He declared that geographically the justices were "more widely representative of the entire nation than at any time in its history."

'Spite Walls' Seen

After pointing to their widely ranging qualifications for the court, he said:

"The notion that such a group of men, so variously experienced and assembled, would be either deliberately opposed to or thinkingly blind to the security of the American people is ridiculous on its face. Yet there are those among us, including the sponsors of the Jenner bill, who are trying to use that notion to erect spite walls around our highest tribunal."

A panel discussion on "Wiretapping and Eavesdropping" followed the luncheon session. Stanley J. Tracy, Washington lawyer and former assistant director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said:

"Uncontrolled wiretapping and eavesdropping constitute a substantial threat to individual liberty, but properly restricted, these activities are essential, if not indispensable, to both national and individual security."

Edward Bennett Williams, Professor of Law at Georgetown University and also a Washington lawyer, said that although Congress had made it a crime to tap telephones or to use information obtained from taps, "the Federal Bureau of Investigation has been and is continuously engaged in this illicit act and has gone and is going unchallenged."

Bar Opposes Jenner Bill To Curb Supreme Court

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 26 (AP).—The American Bar Association does not want Congress to try to limit the Supreme Court's jurisdiction over appeals.

The House of Delegates, governing body of the ABA, completed a two-day winter meeting yesterday by adopting a resolution opposing a bill introduced in the Senate by Senator Jenner, Republican of Indiana.

The Jenner bill would take from the high tribunal the right to hear appeals on cases involving congressional committees, executive security programs, State security programs, school boards, or admissions to the bar.

The resolution opposing this proposal was amended from the floor to provide that members of the ABA reserve the right to criticize court decisions and that they do not approve or disapprove them.

As originally drafted by the ABA's Board of Governors at the suggestion of Senator Wiley, Republican of Wisconsin, the resolution opposed the Jenner bill without expressing any opinions on court decisions.

Before ending the meeting, the House of Delegates elected Ross L. Malone of Roswell, N. Mex., as the ABA's president nominee. Sylvester C. Smith, Jr., of Newark, N. J., was chosen nominee for chairman of the House of Delegates.

The election will take place in August at the ABA's annual meeting in Los Angeles. Mr.

Malone succeeds Charles B. Rhyne of Washington, while Mr. Smith takes over from James L. Shepherd, Jr., of Houston, Tex.

Mr. Malone, who will be 48 in September, served as Deputy United States Attorney General in 1952-3. He was instrumental in establishing procedure under which the Justice Department consults with the ABA as to qualifications of proposed appointees to the Federal Judiciary.

Tracy, Formerly Of FBI, Named to GW Alumni Post

Stanley J. Tracy, former assistant director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, has been appointed director of alumni relations at George Washington University.

Mr. Tracy of 4800 College Avenue, College Park, Md., succeeds Thomas A. Brown, who resigned June 13. Mr. Tracy was president of the university's Alumni Association in 1953 and 1954.

After his retirement from the FBI in 1954, he served as director of the university's Population Migration Research project under a grant from the Richardson Foundation, Inc. of New York City.

A 1925 graduate of the university's Law School, Mr. Tracy was on the staff of the Veterans Administration in Salt Lake City before joining the FBI in 1933. From 1926 to 1928, he was with that agency. He is a member of the District and Utah Bar associations.

In your memorandum of September 11, 1958, to Mr. Tolson captioned as above you advised that Stanley Tracy had called and stated that the above woman She is aware of the fact that Mr. Tracy formerly worked in the Bureau and recently stopped Mrs. Tracy and related in some detail that she is an informant of the FBI. She inferred that some of the residents of College Park are communists, and she wants to talk with Mr. Tracy. She further stated that she reports to one of our Agents at Hyattsville. W.C.S.

Mr. Tracy thought this woman sounded like a possible mental case and said he would appreciate any information we could furnish him. He requested a check of Bureau files and the Hyattsville Resident Agency.

Bufiles are negative concerning Special Agent Francis Jahn of the Hyattsville Resident Agency was contacted and advised, after checking, that he never heard of this woman. He further checked the indices of the Baltimore Office and they are negative. All security work in Jahn's territory is handled by one Agent who handles the security work of both the Hyattsville and Silver Spring Resident Agencies. Jahn checked with Eds Agent and he too has never heard of 31 2 1404

RECOMMENDATION:

None, for information. You will probably want to suggest to Mr. Tracy that if and when he talks with this woman he caution her about representing herself as an informant of the FBI. 31 2 1404

While discussing other matters with Irving Ferman of the American Civil Liberties Union 9-26-58, he stated that he thought Gordon Tiffany of the Civil Rights Commission was probably going to do a good job and would render a good report. He stated that Tiffany's report will attempt to show the communist influence in civil rights matters in the South.

Stanley J. Tracy

He stated that Tiffany conferred with him at the beginning and Ferman had told him the secret of his success would be to secure a competent investigative staff and be certain of his facts. He had suggested that Tiffany secure a former FBI man to head up his investigative unit but that Tiffany had not been successful in this regard. Ferman stated that Tiffany had secured an individual known as Colonel Rosenblatt, who had been a reserve officer in the Armed Services for some time. He stated that Tiffany is not happy with Rosenblatt's services.

Irving remarked that he had discussed the situation with Tracy on some occasions and I told him I understood that Mr. Tracy had been indirectly approached to work for the Commission and Ferman stated that this was true, that he had attempted to interest Tracy in the matter, and that Tiffany would like to have him on his staff but that Tracy is not interested.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Stanley J. Tracy

Please find transmitted herewith a typed copy of notes I made while listening to Cyrus Eaton talk about his trip to Russia at the Press Club recently.

Eaton makes a dignified appearance, is well groomed and well spoken. I can see how he can favorably impress an uninformed audience. It seemed obvious to me that he did not impress the Press Club audience because it was an informed audience.

As happens so many times, one thinks of a question when it is too late. I had written my question and sent it up to the head table before the introduction of John L. Lewis as a long time friend of Eaton. Midway in Eaton's talk I thought of the question "What happens to great labor leaders like John L. Lewis in Russia? Did you meet any - we never hear of them over here?"

Your articles on Juvenile Delinquency in the Sunday supplement are excellent. May I suggest a subsequent series as soon as possible in the same medium -- "J. Edgar Hoover speaks on concepts of freedom." The articles: positive views on civil rights, searches and seizures, ethics, truth, etc. No negative views, no criticism of anything past but rather the goals of the future toward which America should be working. A course in ethics to be mandatory, for example, in all public schools from the first grade through high school - which by repetition on the appropriate age level, would help future generations have a clearer concept of property and personal rights of others; a clearer concept of the bill of rights because responsibility under the bill of rights is more important than the rights themselves. Perhaps another book is the answer. I have talked with several professors at Maryland, B.Y.U., and GWU and they agree that the grade schools and high schools are failing miserably in this area.

Memorandum re Cyrus Eaton's talk before the National Press Club in Washington, D. C.

Guests at the head table included Burton ~~K.~~^{DC} Wheeler and John ~~L.~~^{DC} Lewis, both introduced as friends of Mr. Eaton. Eaton's public relations man, Howard Skidmore of the C & O RR was also at the head table.

Eaton was introduced as a native of Nova Scotia and that he was educated for the Baptist Ministry. He came to the United States and became an errand boy for the Rockefeller family and decided that if you do not have money you should associated with it as closely as possible.

Eaton began his speech by announcing the title - A Capitalist Looks at the Commissars - that he qualified as a capitalist as Chairman of the Board of the C. & O RR. He remarked that foreign issues may be important on Nov. 4 in Maine, California and Minnesota. (And in Montana interjected Burton K. Wheeler).

In years gone by, said Eaton, we had no big national debt and no income tax but we have improved since then. (laughter).

He told of Rockefeller giving $75,000,000 to the University of Chicago when Dr. Harper was its President. Harper was enthused about Russia where he had recently been. His son (Harper's) became head of the Department of Russian at the U of Chicago and Eaton urged the audience to read the book "The Russia in Which I ~~Believe~~ Believe, by Sam Harper. Eaton said he personally preferred Adam Smith and that Karl Marx would have been a capitalist if he had lived in America today, due to our able labor leaders etc.

Eaton observed ~~x~~ that whether we liked the communists or not, we had to put up with Communism. He said-"In Russia I saw everyone and everything I wanted to see." "I went to the schools, ~~museums~~^{museums}, libraries, and one is impressed by their willingness to learn." "They are really going places".

"One of my most interesting interviews was with Krushchev." "I am convinced they want to get along with us." "They are dedicated to Socialism and they are all for their system."

"They are amazingly friendly but are scared of what America is going to do to them." "They want to make peace". "Krushchev said to me that he had been immensely impressed with American Scientists" -- "I want to give attention to agriculture to see that every family in Russia has plenty of food." -- "I want to enormously expand our educational system with thousands of teachers." -- "I want to enormously expand our housing." -- "I have tremendous respect for American Industry!" -- "I have ~~enormous~~ respect for the American Industrialist." -- "I want peace and am willing to sit down and agree!" -- "I understand ~~that~~ the difference in our economy. I recognize that you can't turn America into Socialism or Communism".

Eaton said, "Krushchev has a sense of humor. He can laugh. I would love to have President Eisenhower come to Russia. There would be a marvelous demonstration from the people, and he would be perfectly safe."

61-31222-408
100-127094-233
ENCLOSURE

Other quotes: "The policeman in sight when we left on a train at midnight was a woman with no revolver."

"When we are talking about Civil Disobedience we are misleading our people. There are enough now to destroy every city in the world."

"Denmark is disturbed as one bomb would destroy it."

"Our participation in the Formosa Straits is sad." "Terrified confusion. Dulles changed his whole point of view." "I have never heard of greater nonsense than Formosa." "Eight million Chinamen feel that they USA forced Chiang Kai Chek on them."

"Total war is no solution - we must get together."

"Let us get away from this nonsense - let us lunch together I would say to a competitor who threatened a company of mine."

Questions after Eaton's talk:

Q. The announced purpose of Russia is to Communize the world.

A. "We set out to Christianize the world. --I don't believe that they want to do it."

Q. Krushchev said we will bury you - do you think he will do so peacefully?

A. If we are going to meet the future we must have a closer alliance with labor, farmer and scientist.

Q. Did you see the slave camps and the Hungarian revolutionists? What did Krushchev say about them?

A. I did not mention Hungary. Two of our leading American Scientists were born in Hungary. A Hungarian said: What happened in Hungary was not because they were Communists but that they were Hungarians. America said if you will join our system our standard of living will be established in Hungary. The American issue is aphony.

Q. Does Russia distrust us?

A. They distrust us as much ~~xx~~ as we distrust them. They will conclude that we will start the bombs. We can trust people who are afraid of what we are going to do.

Q. (question was about time helping the Russians).

A. Time has done a lot for them.

Q. Would you invite Krushchev as your guest in America.

A. I would like to have Krushchev as my guest.

Q. (Question as about propaganda).

A. As to propaganda they are replying in kind. They would go along if they ~~think~~ though we meant it.

Q. Why do they jam the Voice of America, U.N. debates --

A. They are in the same position that the US was in its revolution. My ancestors fled as Tory's to Nova Scotia. Russia has made a terrific experiment and they get angry at our criticism.

Q. Why are they afraid of Pasternak?

A. The young folks in Russia think their system is wonderful, so they think criticism is serious. I think it is the young people and not Krushchev who resents him.

Q. According to the NY Herald Tribune of Sept. 25, you were quoted as saying "I am confident that in Krushchev we have a man with whom we could deal. If the quote is correct, why, in view of what happened in Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Poland ~~etc~~ and other places, do you feel this way?"

Dear Stanley:

I want you to know I am indeed grateful for your note of November 8 enclosing a resume of Cyrus Eaton's talk before the National Press Club.

It is most regrettable that a man such as he--who owes so much to the American way of life which has made his financial status possible--should choose to bask in the ignominious propaganda rays emanating from Moscow. Certainly, his position is untenable.

Thanks very much for your good words regarding my articles on juvenile delinquency, and, likewise, I am appreciative of your thoughtful suggestion concerning a series on the concepts of freedom. I will keep this in mind and perhaps an opportunity will arise whereby such a series will be possible.

Enclosed is a copy of the October 31, 1958, issue of "Counterattack" which deals with the smear campaign against the Bureau and me. I believe it will be of interest to you.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Thank you for the Xmas remembrance of wonderful cigars - I will enjoy the luxury.

I hope that you had a pleasant holiday and that the New Year brings further successes to you and the Bureau.

In talking with Irving Ferman about a new book on our freedoms, civil rights, civil liberties and civic responsibilities, he feels that such a book by you would be terrific - that it would take the lead away from the "phony liberals". It would put them in the "me too" category and render a real service to the Nation, to the Bureau and to the patriots. It would dispel the "secret police" tag the left wing has been trying to hard to attach. It would make civil rights investigations easier through understanding and it would be a logical sequence to "Masters of Deceit".

In working out an outline for extended research on the Fourth Amendment, Mickey and I found out that very little research has been done and very little of value published. Much of such a book would be in this area. As soon as I can get to it we are submitting our outline to a Foundation in the hope of getting a grant for extended research and the publication of four needed textbooks. It would be a five year project - one year to outline it in the areas of economics, sociology, history and law, and four years to complete. It was study in this project area that gave birth to the idea of "FREEDOM" by J. Edgar Hoover, or some similar title.

Best wishes for a pleasant and happy Birthday and New Year on January 1.

Dear Stanley:

I am glad you are pleased with the cigars, and I am grateful for your New Year's Greetings and birthday congratulations. I certainly hope 1959 brings you a full measure of good health and happiness.

It was good of you to inform me of your talk with Irving Ferman concerning a new book; however, my situation is such at the present time that I do not see how I can possibly work in such a project any time soon. As you know, we have the motion picture, "The FBI Story," under way, and there is also the matter of appropriations hearings and the convening of Congress which also tie us up for several months. I appreciate your contacting me in this regard and wish it were possible to give you a favorable response, but I feel certain you can understand my position.

Dear Stanley:

I am indeed appreciative of your letter of October 19, 1959, which you handed to DeLoach upon your visit October 21.

As you were advised, I will be in travel status beginning November 8, 1959, and for several days thereafter. This is in connection with an official commitment of long standing which is impossible to rearrange. I, therefore, believe it will be impossible to see President Wilkinson of Brigham Young University on any of the suggested dates as mentioned in your letter. In the event President Wilkinson plans to be in Washington for business reasons and will not have an opportunity to be back at a later date, he should feel free to stop by FBI Headquarters and discuss matters with one of my assistants.

The invitation mentioned in your letter is indeed appreciated. I know that I would enjoy a trip to Utah considerably. As you know, however, my schedule is completely subject to the heavy duties and responsibilities which daily face us in the FBI. For this reason it would be virtually impossible for me to make a firm commitment with President Wilkinson even if our schedules allowed getting together during the dates as mentioned in your letter.

I hope you will convey to President Wilkinson my sincere appreciation and the fact that I would be most happy to see him any other time that he is in Washington.

With best wishes,

REQUEST TO PHOTOGRAPH THE DIRECTOR

[redacted] Assistant Director Stanley J. Tracy (retired), told me this morning his father had as a guest at his home last night Nikos Bel-Jon. Bel-Jon is the artist who made the aluminum portrait of the Director which is displayed in the lobby of the Identification Building. This portrait, which former Assistant Director Tracy arranged to have made by Bel-Jon in 1952, was presented by the Identification Division to the Director on his 35th Anniversary with the Department of Justice.

[redacted] said Bel-Jon is coming to the Identification Division this morning to look at the portrait again. There is no objection to this because the portrait is on public display. In addition, [redacted] Bel-Jon wants to take an up-to-date photograph of the Director; former Assistant Director Tracy told Bel-Jon he should telephone the Director's office to make arrangements for that.

Bu file 62-12188-3633 contains a memo by former Assistant Director Tracy dated 8-6-52, pointing out that Bel-Jon took extra pains to turn out an excellent product because Bel-Jon was overjoyed at the opportunity of being able to do a portrait of the Director. A letter from the Director to Bel-Jon 8-9-52 thanked him for this unique portrait. The only other information in Bu file concerning Bel-Jon is a circular (file 62-12188-5570) describing the art work in metals which Bel-Jon does using techniques he developed himself. Nothing derogatory concerning Bel-Jon in Bureau files. Bel-Jon is a native of Greece, a naturalized American citizen who formerly lived in San Francisco but now resides in New York.

RECOMMENDATION:

When Bel-Jon calls he be told by someone in Mr. DeLoach's office that because of the Director's extremely heavy schedule it will not be possible for the Director to devote the time necessary to sit for a special photograph.

Communism. Preparedness for larger future world developments is essential to our national and personal survival.

"The Florida Network is not a "dues type" of organization nor do we openly solicit new members. Our new members are gained strictly by present members carefully selecting individuals of unquestionable reliability, loyalty, dedication to the preservation of freedom, strong belief in Americanism, and committed to the fight against Communism. These are the qualities upon which you were considered before you were asked to join. If you have some patriotic friends who should be members of Network, notify your contact or write to us before extending an invitation. Each prospective member is carefully screened prior to inviting him to join.

"As we mentioned above, we have no dues for membership. But, as in any organization we have expenses; our chief expense is the cost of the monthly bulletin. Each member is requested to donate whatever he feels he can to defray these expenses. Your contribution will be greatly appreciated. (We prefer that contributions be in cash, rather than checks, and they may be mailed to P.O. Box 1542, Winter Park, Fla.)

"There are only four things we ask of our members:

"1. To take an active part in the fight against Communism, through local groups or individually; cooperate with other sound patriots in your area.

"2. To keep yourself well informed by reading and studying both background material and current events.

"3. Follow closely and carry out energetically all suggestions made in the bulletin or coming from known F.N. sources. This is extremely important.

"4. To keep your membership and any reference to this organization strictly confidential. It should not be talked about except with your "contact" or associates whom you know to be members. The bulletins should not be read by anyone except members. This is vital.

"We appreciate hearing from our members, particularly in reporting on activities in their own areas.

"Cordially,

F.N.

[redacted] named Dr. WILLIAM E. FORT, JR. as one of the founders of the organization. Dr. FORT, a former professor at Rollins College in Winter Park, has been known to the Resident Agents in Orlando as an outspoken opponent of communism and an admirer of the FBI. Upon leaving Rollins College about two years ago, Dr. FORT was employed at Pomona College in California. From February to July of 1960, he has been a resident of Tampa, Fla., where he was employed as Director of the Florida Coalition of Patriotic Societies. CALIF

On 7/6/60, Dr. WILLIAM E. FORT, JR., Tampa, advised SA [redacted] the FN was founded approximately three years ago by Dr. FORT and [redacted]. He said at the outset he had the support and encouragement of D. MILTON LADD, former Assistant to the Director of the FBI and General GEORGE STRATEMEYER (Retired), both of whom resided near Winter Park, Fla. He said these two men and Dr. FORT prepared and signed letters about the organization in an effort to enlist interest of prospective new members. FLA

Dr. FORT furnished information similar to that in the above letter as to the nature of this organization. In addition, he advised that FN is an "underground type" organization whose aims are:

1. To infiltrate Communist Party front groups in order to counteract communism influence. FLA
2. To form a hard core anti-communist group to act in event the communists ever succeed in taking over the Government of this country.

He said they are very selective in their recruiting of new members on the basis of character, loyalty, and integrity. He said it is not their purpose to insist that everybody think alike so long as they are loyal to basic principles of our democratic system. He said new members are recommended by the old proven ones and are checked on before being invited to join.

Dr. FORT said the organization is designed to act not as a group but through its individual members. Each member acts on his own but the activities are coordinated by district and state leaders. They have a monthly publication known as the "Florida Network Bulletin," which is produced in Winter Park by mimeograph process. Its purpose is to alert the members to dangerous situations as they arise and to guide them toward effective action. Among the actions it suggests are that members write letters to the editors of various publications, letters to congressmen, attend meetings, etc. The "Florida Network Bulletin" is confidential and members are told not to allow outsiders to read same.

As example of the FN's activity, Dr. FORT pointed out that several FN members had attended the meeting sponsored by the Southern Conference Educational Fund in Orlando, Fla., 3/12/60, and the FN intends to pursue its infiltration of this group.

Dr. FORT said there are approximately 200 members of the FN in Fla. The organization is in small groups or cells so that members do not know each other except where necessary. The only complete list of members is at the state headquarters in Winter Park. The headquarters and publication of the Network's Bulletin are the responsibility of [redacted]

b7C

[redacted] and [redacted]
[redacted] Fla.

Dr. FORT said he has been the state leader in Fla. since the FN was organized. During the preceding year when he was at Pomona College in California, he organized three similar groups there, two of which he said are still in existence. In the meantime, people in other states have become interested in the FN and have begun to organize similar activity. Dr. FORT said some former Bureau personnel interested in the Network are: D. M. LADD, mentioned above, who he said has been kept apprised of the FN's progress throughout its existence; STANLEY TRACY, former Assistant Director of the FBI; and Mr. CLEON SKOUSEN, former Special Agent and former Chief of Police at Salt Lake City, Utah. He said Mr. TRACY introduced him to [redacted] and JACK ISON, both former FBI Agents, who now head the American Security Council (ASC) in Chicago. He said it is anticipated ASC through a satellite organization will provide national leadership and coordination to the various state networks.

At the time of the above interview Dr. FORT was preparing to leave Tampa and move to Buena Park, Calif., where he will be employed as Director of the Free Enterprise Association. His address there will be P. O. Box 121, Ghost Town Rural Station, Buena Park, Calif. He said nobody had been selected to take over state leadership of FN in his place, although efforts were being made to select a new leader. After Dr. FORT's departure from Tampa, he sent SA [redacted] a carbon copy of a letter he had written to Mr. ROBERT WALL, former SAC at Miami, soliciting WALL's assistance in connection with the FN and stating a representative would call on him. Dr. FORT also advised in a letter that the coordinating agency ^{of} in Chicago has been set up but may not begin functioning for a year or two. He said it will be known as the ~~the~~ Foundation for American Research. In the meantime, he requested FN to make reports of its activity to the ASC, 205 West Monroe St., Chicago 6, Ill. CHICAGO, ILL

b7C

Copies of the "Florida Network Bulletin" are received regularly by the Tampa Division.

Tamm, FBI Lab Chief, B-3 Has Retired

Quinn Tamm, an assistant director of the FBI, has retired after 26 years' service and will take the post of director of the field service of the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

The retirement, effective Jan. 19, was made public by the FBI after Metropolitan Police Chief Robert V. Murray, who is also president of the Association, announced Tamm's new appointment, made Friday.

The new job formerly was held by Ray Ashworth, who died Dec. 22. The field service is a key function of the association, investigating, on request the problems of police departments throughout the nation.

Tamm, 50, is in charge of the famous FBI crime laboratory, which assists in the scientific solution of a multitude of crimes.

His retirement enlarges a list of top FBI officials who have retired in recent years. These include Insp. Howard B. Fletcher, who had charge of training and inspections, and six assistants to director J. Edgar Hoover: Louis B. Nichols, D. Milton Ladd, Stanley Tracy, Ralph Harbo, Hugh Clegg and Earl J. Connelley.

[REDACTED] FOR ADVANCEMENT OF COLORED PEOPLE

Stanley For record purposes at 11:10 a.m. today, former Assistant Director Tracy telephoned and talked to Wick. Tracy said last night between 8:30 and 9:00 he answered the telephone at his home and a male caller identified himself as [REDACTED]. The caller asked if Mr. Tracy was the head of the Identification Division of the FBI. Mr. Tracy said his answer would depend on who was calling and he asked the identity of the caller; whereupon, the caller said his name was [REDACTED] and "I'm with the NAACP." Mr. Tracy then stated that he (Tracy) had at one time been head of the Identification Division of the FBI.

The caller then said, "We want to know how many colored people are employed in Ident." He asked further if any one of those colored folks so employed are fingerprint classifiers.

Mr. Tracy told him he had retired from the FBI some seven years ago and he believed the caller's best approach would be to call the FBI. The caller stated he had done so but had received no information. The caller then asked Tracy if Tracy could give him the name of any current person employed by the FBI whom he could call to get this information.

Tracy told him he had better call the FBI. Tracy gave him no names.

As you are being advised in a separate memorandum from Mr. Trotter, the Identification Division Technical Section last evening received two anonymous calls between 10:00 and 10:30 from a man identifying himself as [REDACTED] of the NAACP. Additionally, sometime between 10 and 10:30 p.m. a Unit Supervisor in the Technical Section received a telephone call at his home from [REDACTED] employee in the Identification Division who was dismissed with prejudice on [REDACTED]. In connection with my memorandum of 2-17-61 regarding telephone calls made to the Identification Division and to Mr. Stanley Tracy and a current employee of the Technical Section by who is a private investigator associated with , the Director asked whether local police check on backgrounds before issuing licenses to such outfits. It was noted in my memorandum that had been arrested several times and in April 1938 was sentenced to a term of six months by the State of Maryland upon conviction of embezzlement. Bureau files also reflected that has engaged in polygraph operations and is suspected of having engaged in wire tapping. was charged with assault and indecent exposure in 1947 but the charges were dropped.

Inquiry by the Washington Field Office has disclosed that is licensed by the District of Columbia as a private investigator but is not required to have a license in order to work as an investigator for . A check of the files of the Metropolitan Police Department disclosed that was arrested on 5-18-48 on a drunkenness charge in the Seventh Precinct and forfeited $10 collateral. This arrest had not previously been known to the Bureau.

In answer to the Director's inquiry, private investigators' licenses are issued by the Department of Licenses and Inspections of the District of Columbia which is not a part of the police department. They are renewed annually. The applications are submitted to the police department for background investigation and recommendation before the applications are approved. In the case of he worked for another licensed investigator prior to 1953 at which time he first applied for his own license. The police department investigation disclosed his arrests and his conviction, together with the fact that he had served in the Canadian army during the First World War, was honorably discharged and his former employer, a licensed private investigator, favorably recommended him. The police department report indicated that criminal record raised a question as to his fitness for the license. However, the Honorable F. Joseph Donahue, President of the District of Columbia Board of Commissioners, was consulted and expressed the opinion that issuance of the license to could be justified as a contribution to the rehabilitation of an individual who had demonstrated a sincere effort

In November 1953 the police received a complaint that [] in seeking information from the U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, had inferred that he was connected with the Missing Persons Bureau of the Police Department. Investigation did not substantiate this complaint and [] was called in and orally admonished but no further action taken against him.

On 3-12-57 [] was arrested by the Metropolitan Police Department and charged with simple assault and unlawful entry. These charges resulted from his entering an apartment with a photographer for the purpose of photographing a man and woman to be used as evidence in a divorce action. The assault charge was dropped but [] was convicted of unlawful entry and fined $50 with the alternative of serving 30 days. He appealed to the Municipal Court of Appeals which sustained the conviction. Following this conviction, the police department recommended that [] license be revoked and the police department files indicate that apparently the Department of Licenses and Inspections did revoke it. However [] appealed to the Board of Appeals and Review of the District of Columbia which held that the police department recommendation had been arbitrary and reversed the decision of the Department of Licenses and Inspections.

From the above, it is apparent that the police department has been aware of [redacted] background and character and has opposed his licensing as a private investigator in the District of Columbia. However, [redacted] has been able to overcome that opposition and presently holds a license.

The above is submitted for information.

SUBJECT: PEOPLE - TO - PEOPLE PROGRAM

You will recall that on 4-19-61, Former Assistant Director Tracy called and talked to SA Kemper in your office. Tracy said he had been asked to serve on the Board of Directors of captioned organization which is designed to cut down the anti-American feeling, particularly in Central and South America. Tracy said this is strictly a free enterprise matter and is being run by retired Ambassador Wiley. He said the US Information Agency is backing the matter very closely and that he will serve without compensation. Mr. Tolson inquired what Bufiles show concerning captioned organization.

INFORMATION IN BUFILES:

There is no derogatory information in Bufiles concerning the People-to-People Program and we have not investigated this organization. The Program started in September, 1956, when President Eisenhower addressed a conference of leading American citizens who met in Washington, D. C., at his invitation. The Program is not a Government-sponsored organization, although President Eisenhower suggested it and was its honorary chairman. President Eisenhower was seeking a plan for building new roads to international understanding and wanted to enlist in the cause of people "the active support of thousands of independent private corporations and institutions and millions of Americans acting through person-to-person communication in foreign lands."

The People-to-People Program is a voluntary, nonpartisan effort of private American citizens' groups. It is comprised of 41 committees which carry out the objectives of mutual understanding. Each committee makes its own plans and develops its own programs. The chairmen meet from time to time to discuss common problems. The committees have a wide range in such fields as art, youth, service groups, hobbies, music, books, sports, education and the like. (64-41588)

John Cooper Wiley, born in 1893, served in the US diplomatic service from 1915 to 1954 when he retired. He was Ambassador to Colombia, 1944-47; to Portugal, 1947-48; to Iran, 1948-51; and to Panama, 1951-54. There is no derogatory information in Bufiles concerning Wiley and we had very cordial relations with him during the time he was a US Ambassador. (94-4-4881)

Dear Stan:

All of a sudden we have a followup on that nice authographed book. One of my Civitan friends admired it, and now I find myself chairman of an international committee on citizenship duties, which committee feels it would like a private conference with J. Edgar Hoover. The committee is a special policy-making committee, under the new President-Elect of Civitan International, which would like the benefit of such a conference for policy making purposes within this organization, which, as you know, I think, has local clubs in nearly all parts of the United States and Canada. Mr. Hoover, I know is acquainted with Civitan. For your information I enclose a little pamphlet of general information about the organization. I am a past International Judge Advocate of the group, as well as having held other offices. If the Director would grant an interview, the committee or its representatives would come to Washington at some future date to be arranged by mutual agreement.

This group do not aspire to be volunteer vigilantes, or such, but would like to do their part to form a policy for alert, informed, intelligent citizens.

My secretary went home with an incipient case of the summer virus, and the other one is loaded with rush legal work. Finding one typewriter free, I am trying my hand at typing, in order to get this on its way to you by air mail. I find that my typing is atrocious, but I hope under the circumstances you will let it pass on account of the intrinsic merit of the effort it represents.

Anyhow, the inquiry is confidential, brief and polite, to the end that you may let me know as soon as may be convenient if you can and will assist me as chairman of such a committee to obtain and carry through with such an appointment as I have outlined above.

Sincerely,

OT had a hernia operation recently and bounced back to robust health like a rubber ball. OT and Bill Sanders would both want me to convey personal greetings if they knew I was writing you.

Clearnest regards

SUBJECT: LOUIS M. HOPPING
 CHAIRMAN, INTERNATIONAL COMMITTEE ON CITIZENSHIP DUTIES
 CIVITAN INTERNATIONAL
 REQUEST FOR APPOINTMENT WITH THE DIRECTOR

By undated letter to Mr. Kemper received on 8-7-61, former FBI Assistant Director Stanley J. Tracy enclosed a letter he had recently received from captioned individual. According to this enclosure, Hopping was recently elected chairman of an international committee on citizenship duties in Civitan International, and the committee members would like to have a private conference with the Director. The purpose of the conference would be to establish policy within the Civitan organization so that its members would be able to do their part to create an alert, informed and intelligent citizenry.

Hopping requested Mr. Tracy to obtain an appointment for them to see the Director and noted that the committee or its representatives would be glad to come to Washington for this meeting at any mutually agreeable time. Hopping did not list the names of the committee members in his letter.

INFORMATION IN BUREAU FILES: REC-133

Stanley J. Tracy is a former Assistant Director of the FBI, and he is on the Special Correspondents' List.

Bufiles contain several references which reflect that Louis M. Hopping was formerly an Assistant United States Attorney in Detroit, Michigan, and that he was contacted in this capacity by Bureau Agents from July, 1932, to August, 1943. In January, 1937, Hopping furnished a manual to the Detroit Office for the Director which he had compiled on the various violations of the Federal penal code. The manual was entitled "Ready Reference Table of Penal Statutes," and it later was published as a book entitled "Ready Reference Table of Penal Statutes for 1938." (62-27349; 102-119-305; 62-46987)

In July, 1940, Mr. and Mrs. Hopping and their children were conducted on a special tour of FBI Headquarters, during which Mr. Hopping commented very favorably on the work done by Agents in the Detroit area.

RE: Louis M. Hopping

(62-45556-12X)

In March, 1952, information was received that Hopping was practicing as an attorney in Detroit, and a newspaper clipping from the "Detroit Times" on 2-11-60 reported that Hopping was the attorney for two Teamsters officials in Detroit who had filed motions in federal court to quash subpoenas requiring them to make depositions in a suit to remove James R. Hoffa as president. According to the article, Hopping was contesting the validity of the subpoenas and stated that his clients had no objection to testifying but feel they are entitled to valid subpoenas. (63-5327-A; 105-62023-3)

Civitan International was founded on 4-15-20 and, according to their brochure, is an association of local chartered Civitan Clubs throughout the United States and Canada dedicated to the task of building better citizenship. The headquarters of Civitan International is located in Birmingham, Alabama, and the Director furnished a statement to the organization in March, 1961, on the occasion of Civitan's 41st Anniversary. (94-1-72)

RECOMMENDATION:

That someone in your (Mr. DeLoach's) office contact Mr. Tracy and advise him that the uncertainty of the Director's schedule precludes an appointment; however, it should be suggested to him that if Mr. Hopping and his committee come to Washington and the Director is not in, the services of an assistant will be offered.

Re memorandum dated 4-13-62 from Mr. G. H. Scatterday to Mr. Rosen. Pursuant to the Director's instructions, all former FBI employees currently known to be now associated with the Wackenhut Corporation are being removed from Bureau mailing lists.

Stanley J. Tracy, reportedly elected as director of this Corporation, is also being removed from the Bureau's mailing lists.

The Miami Office is being requested by attached airtel to discreetly ascertain the identity of any additional former FBI employees associated with this firm who are not currently known to the Bureau so that they too may be removed from Bureau mailing lists. Airtel to Miami additionally reiterates instructions to refrain from any contact with former SAC Samuel K. McKee and also instructs Miami to insure that no ex-employees currently associated with the Wackenhut Corporation are invited to any Bureau functions.

Attached also is an SAC Letter alerting the field to the character and activities of the Wackenhut Corporation.

MR. MOHR:

At 12:30 p.m. today, former Assistant Director Stanley Tracy called and talked to Kemper in my office. It will be recalled that Tracy, along with others, has joined the Wackenhut Corporation which is not held in a favorable light by the Bureau. Tracy asked Kemper if he could go to lunch and Kemper declined. Tracy then asked if it would be possible to have his fingerprints taken in the Tour Room and Kemper advised him we no longer have these facilities available. (We do have these facilities available and do take fingerprints on a very limited basis.) Tracy told Kemper that he had joined the Wackenhut Corporation, which Corporation does industrial security investigations, and that he had met with the Board of Directors. He said he was very much "impressed" with the group. Kemper, of course, made no comment.

Tracy apparently is taken in by the group and from his conversation is not aware of its background or the Bureau's feelings towards it.

RECOMMENDATION:

For information.

Kemper should have told Tracy to watch his step

STANLEY J. TRACY

Mr. Tolson has inquired as to whether Mr. Tracy is connected with the Wackenhut Corporation which group employs a number of former Special Agents and with which we have had difficulties.

According to Bufiles, former Assistant Director Tracy, as of April, 1962, was a member of the Board of Directors of the Wackenhut Corporation which does industrial security investigations. In a conversation with Inspector Kemper of your office on 4-23-62, Tracy told Kemper he had joined this corporation, had met with the Board of Directors and was very much "impressed" with the group. A memorandum prepared at that time pointed out that Tracy had apparently been taken by the group and from his conversation was not aware of its background or the Bureau's feelings toward it. Neither Tracy's file nor the file on the Wackenhut Corporation reveals Tracy's current status with the organization.

It is noted that the Miami Office had previously advised that the purpose of the Board of Directors is reportedly to use their names in solicitation of new business. They are reportedly not paid but are called to Miami once a year to attend a Board meeting at which time all their expenses are paid and this, in effect, affords the Directors a free vacation for the use of their names and their prior professional affiliation.

Kemper saw Stan Tracy, former Assistant Director, the other day and Mr. Tracy stated that he was still on the Board of Directors of the Wackenhut Corporation. He said he was there as an observer so he could see if they did anything that would embarrass the Bureau and could put a stop to it. He said the operation of the organization has been taken over by former Inspector Victor P. Keay and that he has done a real house cleaning. For example, he went to Buffalo and after checking, fired former Agent Harry E. Manicas. It will be recalled that Manicas used the National Academy Directory of Graduates in connection with his investigations. Mr. Tracy further stated that the organization had removed all mention of the FBI in its literature and further that they are moving from the investigative field to the protection field. He said for example they recently bought a protection company in Los Angeles and furnishes guards and protective devices for the May Company.

Dear [redacted]

Last month, on October 21, the Washington Post carried an article over your by-line entitled "FBI Run in Autocratic Way, Ex-Agent Says."

STANLEY TRACY

In my opinion it was an unfortunate article and an unfortunate caption. It certainly was not in the public interest and it was unfair in its implications to those now employed in the FBI and to those formerly employed. It was my personal privilege to have been with the FBI over 20 years and at the time of retirement in 1954 I had been serving as an Assistant Director over 13 years.

The federal public service is demanding, as I can testify after more than 35 years of such service. Agencies such as the FBI must have the highest standards of both performance and conduct. The public image of the FBI should have alerted you to seriously question the reliability of an individual who had less than a year of service. His very statements should also have alerted you.

Transmitted herewith is an address by the President of the Associated Press, who is also Vice President and Editor of the Evening Star newspaper. He speaks on the public image of the FBI from the viewpoint of 38 years of personal observation. I hope his statements will be revealing to you, in a more favorable way, as to the operation of the FBI under Mr. Hoover's direction. As a member of the press I am certain that you would know that there is very little that could have escaped Mr. McKelway's notice in 38 years.

Stanley Tracy

Sincerely yours,

Alumni Secretary

While speaking to Kemper on other matters, Kemper asked Mr. Tracy how he was progressing from his recent back operation. Mr. Tracy said that his condition had been rather unusual in that a tumor had been removed from the spinal column which was malignant. He said this arose from a prenatal condition. He pointed out that while a child is in the process of being developed the spinal column is a tube. He said this later forms into the backbone as the child develops and the tube dissolves. Oftentimes, however, pieces of this tube will remain in the body but usually in the upper reaches of the backbone. In his case, it was in the lower back and last March he began to develop extreme pain in his legs which required his wearing a metal corset. A series of X-rays, however, developed that a tumor was forming around two lower discs in his back and this was removed and was found to be malignant. He said for the next several weeks he is taking daily X-ray treatments at George Washington Hospital and the doctors feel confident that all vestiges of the tumor have been removed. He is able to move around with the aid of a metal corset but has not been able to return to his office at The George Washington University.

Mr. Tracy seems in good spirits and we will keep in touch with him. The Director wrote Tracy on 11-30-62 in connection with his operation.

Tracy and Renzaglia Get Lettermen's Club Past Athlete Awards

• STANLEY J. TRACY and Guy Anthony Renzaglia have been elected to the Hall of Fame of the University Lettermen's Club and will receive their awards at the annual awards banquet May 15 in Lisner Lounge.

Tracy, a former University track star, was an outstanding two-mile man for the Colonials in the early 1920's. Mr. Tracy now serves the University as director of Alumni Relations. Renzaglia was a three-year letterman at the guard position for the football team in the late thirties. Mr. Renzaglia is now the director of the Rehabilitation Institute of Southern Illinois University.

The Hall of Fame is composed of former University athletes. Election to this group is based upon success in their professions or avocations as well as the acquisition of athletic honors during college days. The awards cannot be made to any who have not earned letters or numerals at least ten years prior to being honored.

Before becoming affiliated with GW in 1934 Mr. Tracy had served the government for 34 years, winding up his government career as assistant director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He previously had served as special agent, statistician, assistant economist and office manager of the Department of Labor, The Veterans Administration, and the FBI.

A member of the District Bar, and the Utah State Bar, he was admitted to the Supreme Court in 1947.

Dr. Renzaglia, who received his Master's and Doctor's degree in physical education, counseling and psychology at the University of Minnesota, has been in Minnesota, Montana and Illinois for the past twenty-five years. He served in the Air Force from 1941 to 1946 and has since been professor, lecturer and associate director in psychology and counseling at the University of Minnesota, Montana State, University of Missouri, and Southern Illinois University.

Both men will be honored along with members of the board of governors and past presidents of the University Lettermen's club at the banquet in Lisner Lounge at which Colonial athletes of the current academic year will receive their letters and numerals.

Dear [redacted]

Thank you for your column in the Washington Post this morning entitled "Pity the Poor FBI".

In my opinion you have set the record straight in a very understandable and forceful manner. Not only the FBI but all law enforcement will benefit from your column.

The American public needs to know the practical problems facing their law enforcement agencies if they are to have confidence in them. Certainly today all law enforcement needs the confidence of citizens if it is to cope with the manifold problems in the area of crime and social unrest. There is not an easy job and public understanding is vitally important.

For your information I am a retired Assistant Director of the FBI (1954) and for 20 years was stationed at the Washington headquarters.

Thanks also for the last paragraph of your column and its reference to Fred J. Cook.

Sincerely,

Stanley J. Tracy

Dear Mr. Hoover:

A lot of people are pleased that you spoke out as you did in your recent press conference. Some are not pleased but what would be expected from the Washington Post?

It is way past time for many in both public and private life to speak out. I have been amazed at the failure of civic leaders and corporation executives to raise their voices sufficiently loud to be heard clearly in the halls of the Congress. I am not amazed, but am rather dismayed over the views of so many of our alleged educators on law enforcement and security. They seem to be unconcerned with facts and lacking in understanding of basic research.

With all good wishes, I am

Dear Mr. Hoover:

The dinner of the Washington Chapter of the Society of Former Agents, held at the Shoreham hotel last Friday evening, was, in my opinion, a milestone. I have not been active in the Society for many years, since the time that Mickey Ladd and I tried to get them to adopt a code of ethics which I wrote. We also tried to get them to form national committees similar to those of the American Legion.

There has been a noticeable change in the past ten years. The old timers (the hate the Bureau group) are fast fading from the picture and newer members are taking the leadership. An example is the election of Bob Newby as Chapter Chairman for Washington for Washington. The organization nationally has reached maturity and I believe can now be depended on to assume responsible leadership in areas of national concern.

Deke DeLoach did a tremendous job at the dinner. His remarks were received with high approval. He stressed the fact that the Bureau and its former agents have a mutuality of interest that is deep and responsible.

I sincerely believe that continued contact by representatives such as Deke is good, not only on the chapter level, but also on the national level.

You will be interested to know that Len Viner's mother was at the dinner and I had a chance to talk with her. She is nearly blind which is most unfortunate.

Please take care of your health, the country needs you at the helm for many years yet.

Sincerely,

Stanley J. Tracy

This is to record the action taken to resolve the information supplied by former Assistant Director Stanley J. Tracy concerning wiretapping by [redacted] (National Academy) of the Anchorage Police Department. [redacted] according to Tracy, testified before the Citizens Wiretapping Committee that he had placed a wiretap on a [redacted] a vicious criminal in Anchorage who was a friend of former Top Ten Fugitive [redacted] in furnishing this information, indicated that for a time the recorder was situated in an FBI radio room.

Extra-Duty Supervisor SA W. Winton Warren telephonically contacted Inspector Joseph A. Sullivan on January 2, 1966, concerning this matter. Inspector Sullivan, who was SAC in Anchorage from December, 1960, to November, 1963, had no recollection whatever of the tap on [redacted] SAC Robert W. Evans, Butte, who was ASAC in Anchorage from August, 1960, to October, 1962, had no knowledge of such a tap on [redacted] Likewise, SAC John Mull of Phoenix, who was ASAC at Anchorage from October, 1962, to November, 1963, and SAC from November, 1963, to June, 1965, had no knowledge of the tap on [redacted]

Thereafter SAC Adsit, Anchorage, was advised of the comments of Evans and Sullivan and instructed to obtain the facts regarding a recorder being on FBI property. SAC Adsit stated he would immediately thoroughly check with the appropriate personnel and promptly advise the Bureau of the results.

Former Assistant Director Stanley Tracy, member of the Board of Directors of the Wackenhut Corporation, yesterday advised an official of the Bureau as follows:

The Board of Directors of the Wackenhut Corporation met at Ocean Reef Motel, Key Largo, Florida, on 12/5/66. The meeting was attended by Governor-elect Claude R. Kirk, Jr., who arranged to hire the Wackenhut Corporation to conduct background investigation of all his appointees and to conduct investigation in Dade and Broward Counties of persons in public life under suspicion for bribery, malfeasance in office, etc. Mr. Tracy advised that the Wackenhut people turned down the Governor-elect's request to conduct a survey into crime conditions in general in Florida. It was agreed at the meeting that any information coming to the attention of the investigators which would be of interest to the FBI would be immediately brought to the attention of the Special Agents in Charge of the three Florida FBI Offices.

Stanley Tracy, former Assistant Director, advised Extra-Duty Supervisor [redacted] on 6-14-69, as follows:

A friend, [redacted] in the brokerage firm of Johnston-Lemon, Southern Building, 1425 H Street, Washington, D. C., noticed that a group of hippies recently rented space in a building near the Southern Building. Around Noon on 6-14-69, [redacted] noticed two of these hippies on the roof apparently installing some type of electric wire into their (hippies') space. [redacted] thought that one of these females hippies had been previously arrested in connection with the disturbance at George Washington University.

Tracy said that [redacted] would be in his office Monday morning, 6-16-69, and would be glad to furnish all facts he has regarding this to an Agent.

The above information was furnished to Washington Field Office with instructions that an Agent should contact [redacted] on 6-16-69, and ascertain whether the information he has constitutes a matter within our jurisdiction.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Congratulations to you on your handling of the Ramsey Clark matter. You said forthrightly that which needed to be said. I thought the articles in the press of yesterday were excellent.

The lowering of standards is causing concern to many citizens. In government, the privacy Personnel Security Questionnaire of the Department of defense is an example. When I testified before the House Committee on Internal Security on September 24, 1969 (hearings on H.R. 14864), I urged that it be the intent of the legislation that criminal and subversive data on applicants or employees in defense industries, be made available to management and labor on a need to know basis. In universities, the lowering of admission standards to accommodate minority groups and the poor, and the tolerance of violent dissent and destruction of property, is a direct threat to higher education.

I hope that you continue to speak out on the need for good strong men in government, labor and in our universities.

With personal best wishes, I am

The Honorable L. Patrick Gray III
Acting Director
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Gray:

George...

On behalf of the directors, officers, and employees of The Wackenhut Corporation, I, as Chairman of the Board and President, wish to take this opportunity to extend to you our congratulations on your appointment as Acting Director of the Bureau by President Nixon and our best wishes to you in your administration of the Bureau as the successor to J. Edgar Hoover.

You may be interested to know that four of the thirteen members on the Board of Directors of The Wackenhut Corporation, including myself, John S. Ammarell, Jr., former Assistant Director, Starkey, and General Joe Carroll, are former Bureau agents. In addition, six of the nine top officers of the corporation are former Bureau agents, as are many of our managers throughout the country.

All of us, in the past, have been and remain strong supporters of the Bureau, its work, its employees, and its goals. As you know, in the past years and, more often, in the past year, J. Edgar Hoover was under almost constant attacks by members of Congress, the press, and left-wing groups. We, here, have actively and constantly given Mr. Hoover our support.

You may rest assured that you, as the Acting Director, will also receive the support of this corporation to achieve your goals within the Bureau which, I am sure, will follow those set by Mr. Hoover, to assure that the Bureau's integrity and achievements continue in the future along the paths led them in the past by Mr. Hoover.

Letters to the Editor

SIR: Your editorial, "Too Much Intelligence", was most confusing. If the FBI, as it states, "... has stopped compiling dossiers on members of Congress and congressional candidates," I wonder what it is going to do with correspondence from citizens furnishing information about such individuals.

Your suggestion that "he" (Acting Director L. Patrick Gray) should go one step farther and destroy the congressional files, to remove any doubts on Capitol Hill, is cause for real concern. Many thousands of citizens voluntarily furnish information to the mass media and to federal and state law enforcement agencies. On the federal level, such communications become official documents and their legal destruction may be accomplished only by approval of the National Archives. Is The Star-News recommending that Congress authorize or require that all data collected or received concerning members of Congress and congressional candidates be destroyed by the agency receiving it? What a mess that would be and what a boon to politicians who may have something to hide.

Your editorial was a "tempest in a teapot", and it clearly showed that the editorial writer did not think the subject through. In my opinion, the mass-media view has always been, as to its own operations, that there is no such thing as "Too Much Intelligence", and with this view I agree.

I had confidence in the integrity of the FBI files under the late Director J. Edgar Hoover, and I have equal confidence in Acting Director Gray's maintenance of those files.

Stanley J. Tracy.

Stanley J. Tracy, Retired FBI Official

Stanley J. Tracy, 73, a retired assistant director of the FBI, died Saturday at his home, 9336 Edmonston Rd., Greenbelt, after a long illness.

He had retired in 1954 as assistant director in charge of the identification division, a position he had held since 1941.

Mr. Tracy had joined the FBI as a special agent in 1933 and had served in the bureaus in San Francisco, Salt Lake City and Washington.

Born in Ogden, Utah, he was an Army veteran of World War I. After the war, he studied at George Washington University Law School, receiving his law degree in 1925.

Before joining the FBI, Mr. Tracy worked for the Treasury, War and Labor Departments and also was in private law practice.

After his retirement, he worked in the private security field.

He is survived by his wife, Margaret, of the home; two sons, James N., of Albuquerque, and Robert, of Argyle, Tex.; a daughter, Mrs. James S. Van Ness, of Canton, N.Y.; a sister, Mrs. Harold E. Nelson, of Salt Lake City, and seven grandchildren.

The family suggests that expressions of sympathy be in the form of contributions to the Stanley J. Tracy Memorial Fund at George Washington Hospital.

Stanley J. Tracy, 73, FBI Identification Ace

Stanley J. Tracy, 73, who retired in 1954 as assistant director in charge of the FBI's identification division, died Saturday at his home on Edmonston Road in Greenbelt after a long illness.

Mr. Tracy, assistant identification director for 13 years, became an FBI agent in 1933. His early assignments were in Salt Lake City and San Francisco.

After retiring he did research work and was director of alumni relations for George Washington University. He also was associate counsel on the Committee for Government Security and was a consultant in the security field in College Park.

Mr. Tracy was born in Ogden, Utah. After serving in the Army in 1918, he attended George Washington University law school, graduating in 1925. He worked for the War, Labor and Treasury Departments and was in private practice before joining the FBI.

He leaves his wife, Margaret; two sons, James N. of Albuquerque, and Robert, of Argyle, Tex., a daughter, Mrs. James S. Van Ness of Canton, N.Y., a sister and seven grandchildren.

A memorial service will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow in University United Methodist Church, 3621 Campus Drive, College Park. The family suggests that expressions of sympathy be in the form of contributions to the Stanley J. Tracy Memorial Fund, George Washington University Hospital.
